Students, faculty begin yearly QUEST

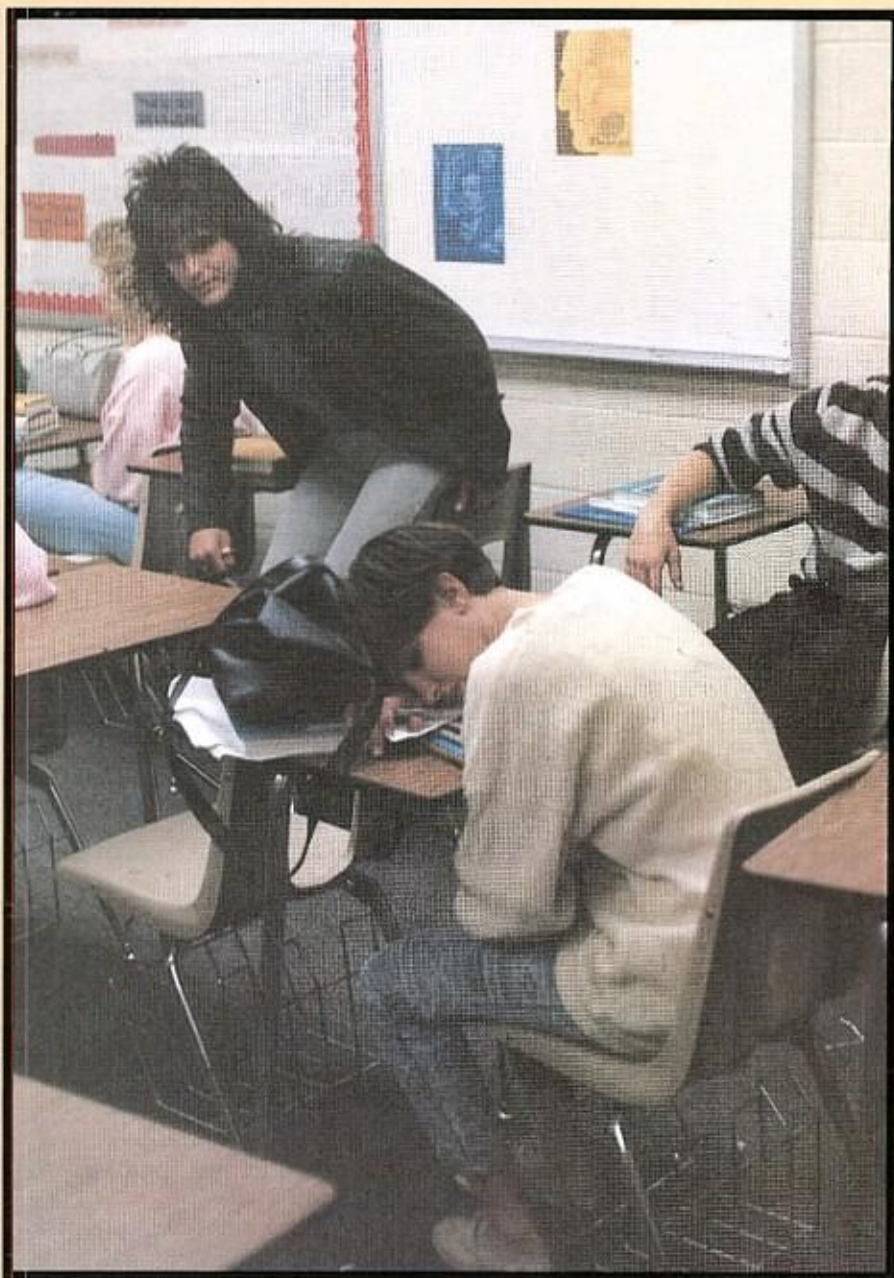

September 2, 1986. The sky was gray and cloudy; rain was falling steadily. Quietly and cautiously groups of people gathered. Their quest was to hunt for answers; challenge their own reasoning; develop their talents and skills; to communicate with others; and finally, to gain admiration and recognition as an outstanding breed.

Each Mansfield High School student and faculty member entered into a quest that was similar to that of its mascot.

The tiger, feared, yet admired for its strength and beauty, spends its life hunting for survival, challenging nature, developing its skills, and producing another breed that will demand and gain respect of both man and nature.

"Tiger! Tiger! burning bright
In the forests of the night,
What immortal hand or eye,
Dare frame thy fearful symmetry?"

— William Blake

Pep Rallies Unleash Tiger Spirit

Screams and yells were heard from the gym as students, cheerleaders, faculty, drill team, band members, and athletes gathered. Signs and banners decorated the walls while others were held up by students reflecting their Tiger Spirit.

Suddenly, the fight song sounded. The enthusiastic crowd changed their focus to the group of athletes that marched in and stood at one end of the gym. Players of the week smiled and waved to the fans as they made their way to the microphone. Words of encouragement for the week's game and appreciation rang from the speakers that sent everyone into a high-spirited frenzy.

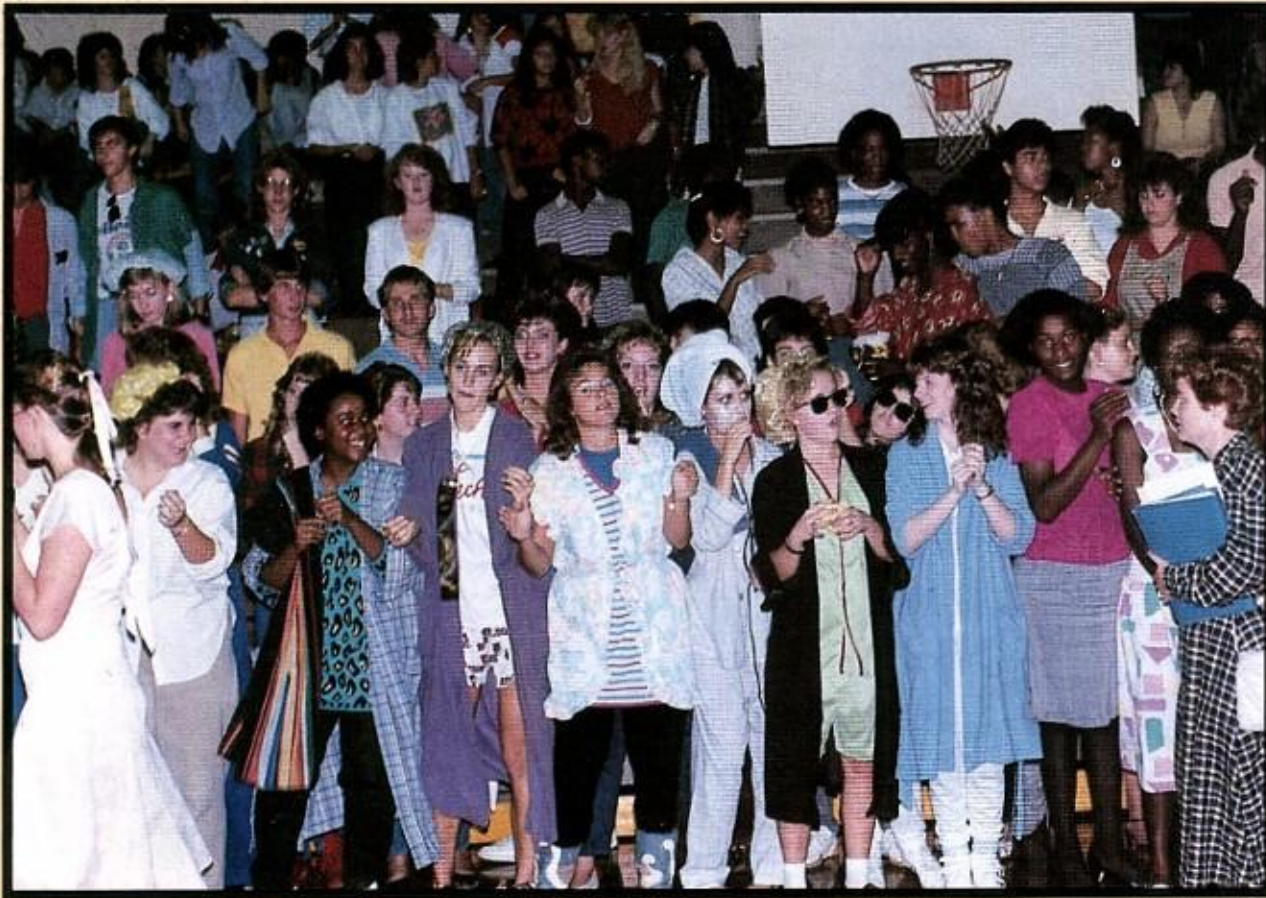

Finally, the Alma Mater was played as everyone crowded onto the gym floor.

A brief moment of closeness was shared — one that might not be experienced again.

During the week of September 29, various activities were planned for the annual Homecoming gala. Included in the week's events were the balloon sale and hall decorating contests, both of which were won by the Senior class.

Students wore aprons, hats, sweatsuits and "nerdy" attire during the week as each day was proclaimed a different theme. Friday brought an array of black and gold as students and faculty showed their Tiger Pride.

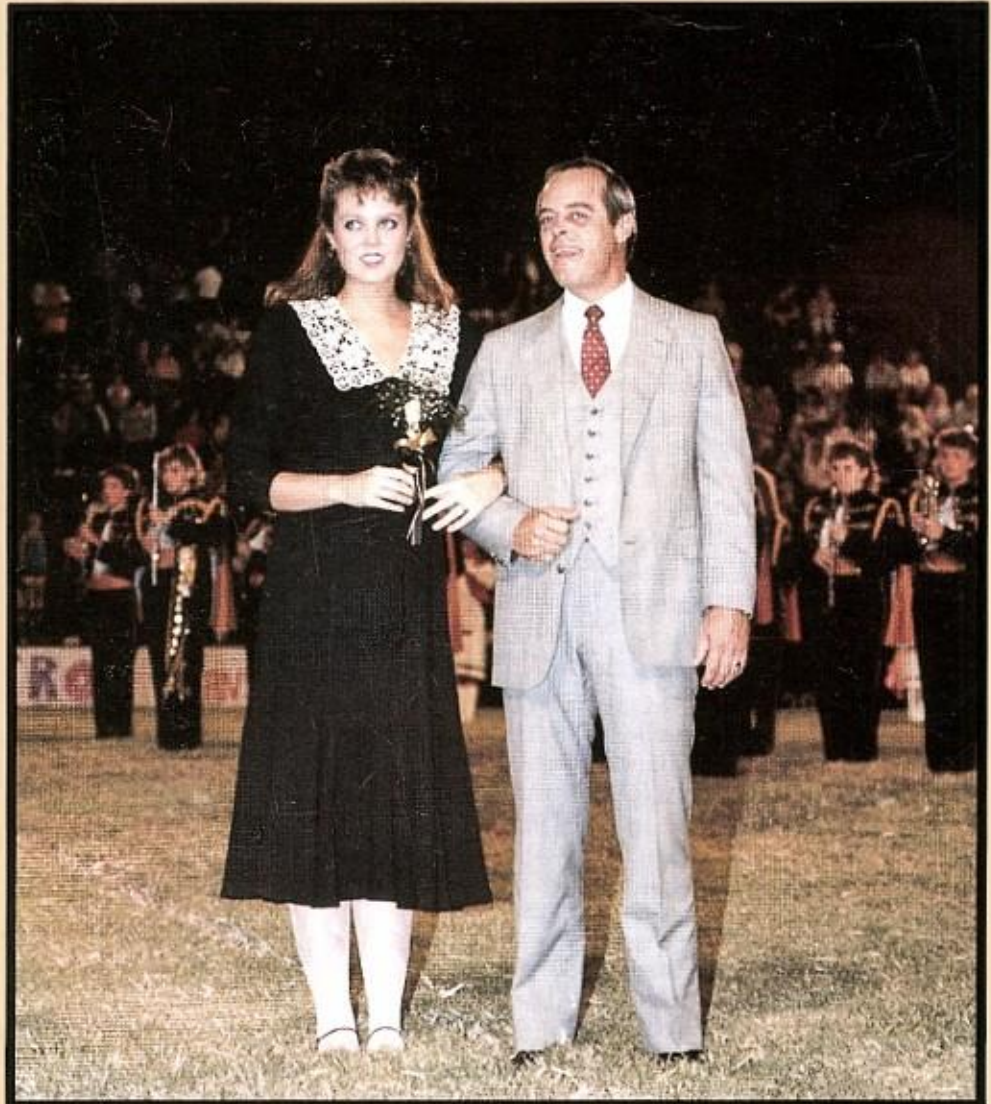

However, along with the school celebrations, students were busy with their own preparations for the Homecoming game. Decisions on clothes, appearance and the cost of the night's outing greatly weighed on their minds as the week progressed.

Johnson Named Queen

Festivities Highlight Half-time

October 3, 1986. As half-time drew near, five senior girls waited anxiously. One of them would become the new Mansfield High School Homecoming Queen. Escorted by their fathers, each candidate stepped onto the field as their name was called. A moment of silence and then Mr. R. L. Anderson, counselor, announced, "Your new Homecoming Queen for 1986 is LaCretia Johnson." Tears of joy and sighs of relief could be seen on each girl's face.

LaCretia Johnson was a junior varsity and varsity cheerleader. She was also active in Future Farmers of America for three years.

Elected as vice-president of her class during her junior year, Holly Roberts was a freshman, junior varsity and varsity cheerleader.

Tami Mears was a freshman, junior varsity and varsity cheerleader. She was head varsity cheerleader during her senior year.

Jennifer Bodkins (bottom left), escorted by her father, Mr. David Bodkins, and Tami Mears, escorted by her father, Mr. Jack Mears, were elected homecoming queen candidates by the student body.

Members of the Drama Club painted faces on students, while the varsity cheerleaders, National Honor Society, Student Council, Key Club, Future Teachers of America, and Future Homemakers of America collected money for the Neighborhood Resource Center. Members of FTA collected $91.80 in donations, to win the contest. Named "Mr. and Ms. Goblin" were Mike Batson and Debbie Smith.

Student Council Host Variety Of Activities

As one of the most active student organizations on campus, members of Student Council sponsored numerous activities during the year. As their first "ice breaker" Student Council sponsored a dance — "About Last Summer" September 6.

Members held a balloon contest in October during Homecoming Week and sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance, which featured the rock band, Heat Degree. They also held the "Mr. and Mrs. Goblin" contest, which raised money for the neighborhood resource center.

In November, a "Tiger Can Do" canned food drive brought in 5,700 cans, which council members donated to the Stephen Leake Project. Continuing in the holiday spirit, December brought the "Orange You Glad It's Christmas" cards given to each teacher by the members. They also donated Christmas gifts to school-aged children and the Resource Center.

During January, members conducted the class favorites and Tiger Spirit elections. For Valentine's "Sweet Notes to Your Sweetheart" were sold and delivered. On February 20, council members served as guides for Career Day as numerous guest speakers visited classrooms.

Student Council also hosted the "Backwards Bash" dance March 6 and in April, members helped with the blood drive at the Carter Blood Center. In May, members attended the State Convention in Austin and new members were announced May 1 and 2.

Serving as Student Council officers were Jill Reed, president; Brandon Coker, vice-president; Lauren Lyles, recording secretary; Scott Fryer, corresponding secretary; Amy Conine, treasurer; Kelli Gray, reporter; Cami Wooten, historian; Vicki Lynn Moore, parliamentarian; and sponsors Mrs. Diane Lyles and Mrs. Vivian Steele.

Honor Society Inducts 25 In Spring Ceremony

On January 8, the National Honor Society held its induction ceremony in the school library. Twenty-five new members were initiated into the chapter. Consisting of students who do well academically, the NHS members were selected on the basis of leadership, character, service, and scholarship.

An Academic Awards ceremony was sponsored by the society in May. Members also served as hosts in October for the Hall of Honor installation ceremony.

The officers of NHS were Jenny Buttner, president; Allison Sichel, vice-president; Lauren Lyles, treasurer; and Kirsten Anton, secretary. The sponsors were Mr. Gordon Hoffman, Mrs. Janet Kelly, and Mr. Freddie Garza.

Key Club Members Give To Community

At their weekly Monday night meetings, Key Club members, along with sponsor Mrs. Chambers, planned many activities that helped benefit the community and school.

This year the Key Club collected and distributed canned foods to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. They also joined with the Stephen Leake Memorial Project to aid a needy family at Christmas giving them presents and canned goods.

Many Key Club members also volunteer their time to baby sit, while others played bingo with nursing home residents. Bake sales and car washes were included in their various fundraisers. A school beautification day was held for all members of the Key Club in order to pick up the trash on the school campus.

Key Club had a convention during April 3-5 in Houston. Before the last home game, on February 20, the Key Club joined with the Kawanis Club to host a chili supper to end the basketball season.

FTA Experiences Work of Teachers

Future Teachers of America, composed of students who plan to become teachers or school administrators, visited Charlotte Anderson Elementary in January and J. L. Boren Elementary in February. Members taught children various lessons prepared by elementary teachers. "I thought it was a good experience and I do want to continue my teaching career," said Amy Cassol, who taught kindergarten.

Club members held a fundraiser each semester. In the fall, members sold decorated mistletoe for Christmas. During the spring, they sold red and pink carnations for Valentine's Day. Money raised was spent on traveling expenses to the FTA state convention held in Austin. An end of the year banquet was also enjoyed by members in April.

Mrs. Cheryl Ballew has been the sponsor for two years. Officers were Leslee Duncan, president; Ricki Rogers, vice-president; Carrie Wilson, secretary; Amy Cassol, treasurer; Joel Madden, historian.

Members of SADD Join to Save Lives

"Don't drink and drive" is a familiar motto of Students Against Drunk Drivers. SADD students pull together to help save the lives of their classmates. SADD was organized last year by Mary A. Anderson.

This year, SADD members produced a radio program over the loud speaker to warn students of the effects of drinking and driving. SADD members gave out Contracts for Life for students and their parents to show that they can be trusted not to drive if they have been drinking. Red ribbons were sold at Christmas time to be tied on car antennas to symbolize "I will not drink and drive."

This spring, after a training session, the thirty junior and senior members that returned from last year spent a day at the middle school in a rap session with all eighth graders about drug and alcohol abuse. SADD's major fund raisers for the year were selling stuffed animals and candles.

Chess Club Moves Into First Year

Students who desire an early morning challenge could be found in T-1 contemplating whether a knight and bishop could checkmate a sole king. "It's the hardest checkmate combination in the game," said co-sponsor William "Billy" Fisher. Chess, a game of strategy, builds the thinking process in the individual.

This was the first year that Mansfield had a Chess Club. "The kids come when they can fit it into their schedule," said Mr. Fisher. "We have some that come pretty much on a regular basis, and then there are those who came in the fall but have conflicts in the morning this semester."

In the future the club would like to compete against other area high school chess clubs and build up their game membership.

Officers for the club were David Escamillia, president, and Steven Tipton, vice-president.

German Club Raises Funds For Computer

German Club members met once every month to discuss fundraisers and plans for the future. Through their fundraiser, selling collegiate mugs, they were able to buy a computer for the German room.

Members planned on attending Winterfest, a German contest, but due to conflicting interests were unable to. Other activities include a hot-dog and marshmallow roast on December 6. On February 23, the Club members went to the Hines Gerthie restaurant in North Richland Hills. German Club also had a German food tasting party in the spring, to begin their unit on food.

Croissants Earn Club Recognition

"Croissants, croissants, croissants!" were the exasperated cries of French Club members after selling the pastries as a November fundraiser. They sold three kinds: plain, filled, and almond. The croissants were bought at the French Italian Connection in Arlington. "We didn't make much of a profit — only $120," said sponsor Mrs. Pinno, "but we are getting really popular; everyone knows we sell the croissants."

Starting a new tradition, the French Club went to the Kimball Art Museum to see a French Revolution exhibit in April. After the presentation, a lunch was sponsored in the museum cafeteria by club members.

Membership Increases Spanish Club's Plans

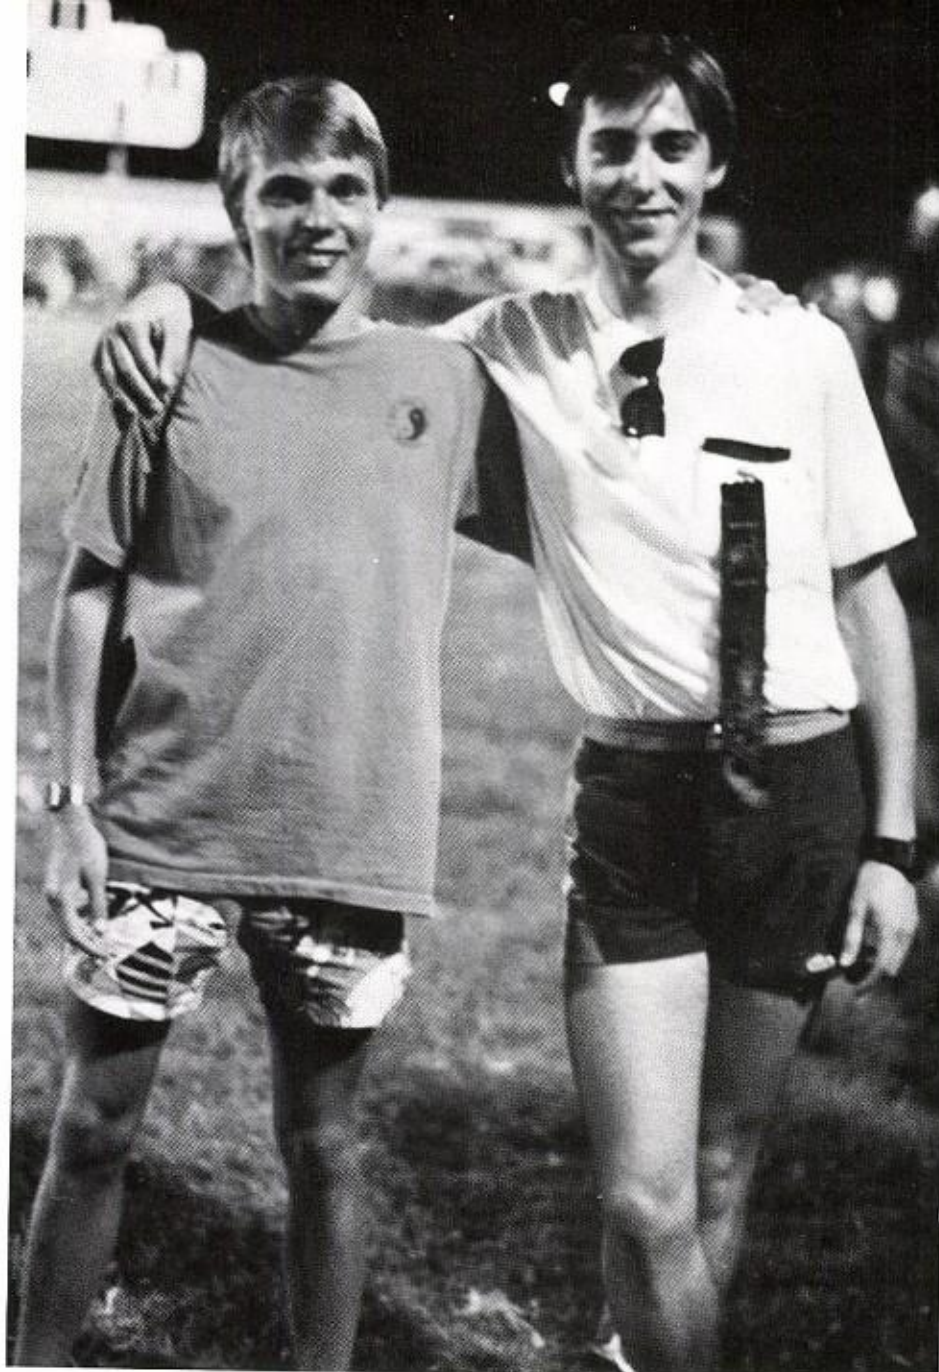

¿Hablas español? No, no lo hablo pero estoy aprendiendolo.

The Spanish Club got off to a good start this year. Membership in the club doubled and a $200 scholarship was presented to the outstanding Spanish student.

To celebrate the holidays, club members attended a dinner and carolling party. Monthly meetings were also held during the year which featured guest speakers, such as Jordi Arrufat, foreign exchange student from Spain.

In addition, members kept a scrapbook of past and present events and entered it in the Pan American Students Forum in San Antonio during March.

Literature Club Hosts Anthology

The Literature Club presented its second annual literacy anthology in May. Approximately 200 pieces of short stories, poetry, and artwork were submitted by talented student writers and artists during the fall semester. Editors Cary Birdwell, Jennifer Gause, Brad Campbell, Keather Valdez and DeLea Stutzman led the committee members in selecting material for the 1987 Anthology.

During the spring, two guest speakers, Dr. Cohan and Dr. Romer spoke to club members about poetry and the Japanese Education System.

Off the job, the club attended Texas Christian University's production of "The Glass Menagerie" and "Death Trap."

"Altogether it has been a very successful year," said club sponsor Beverly Frank.

Journalism Classes Combine To Form Bengal Beat

After a rough start, the journalism classes pulled together to form the best Bengal Beat staff in years.

"This is the first year I've had J-1 students do well enough to deserve promotions at mid-term," said sponsor Kathryn Barnett. "Usually, J-1 students stay reporters all year. They only move up when they get into second year journalism. Even then, staff positions are acquired and kept on merit," she explained.

By February 1, the staff completed the four issues necessary to enter Interscholastic League

Press Conference competition in newspaper overall ratings, and individual achievement awards. The results were announced in April at the convention in Austin. This was the first year of competition at the 5A level.

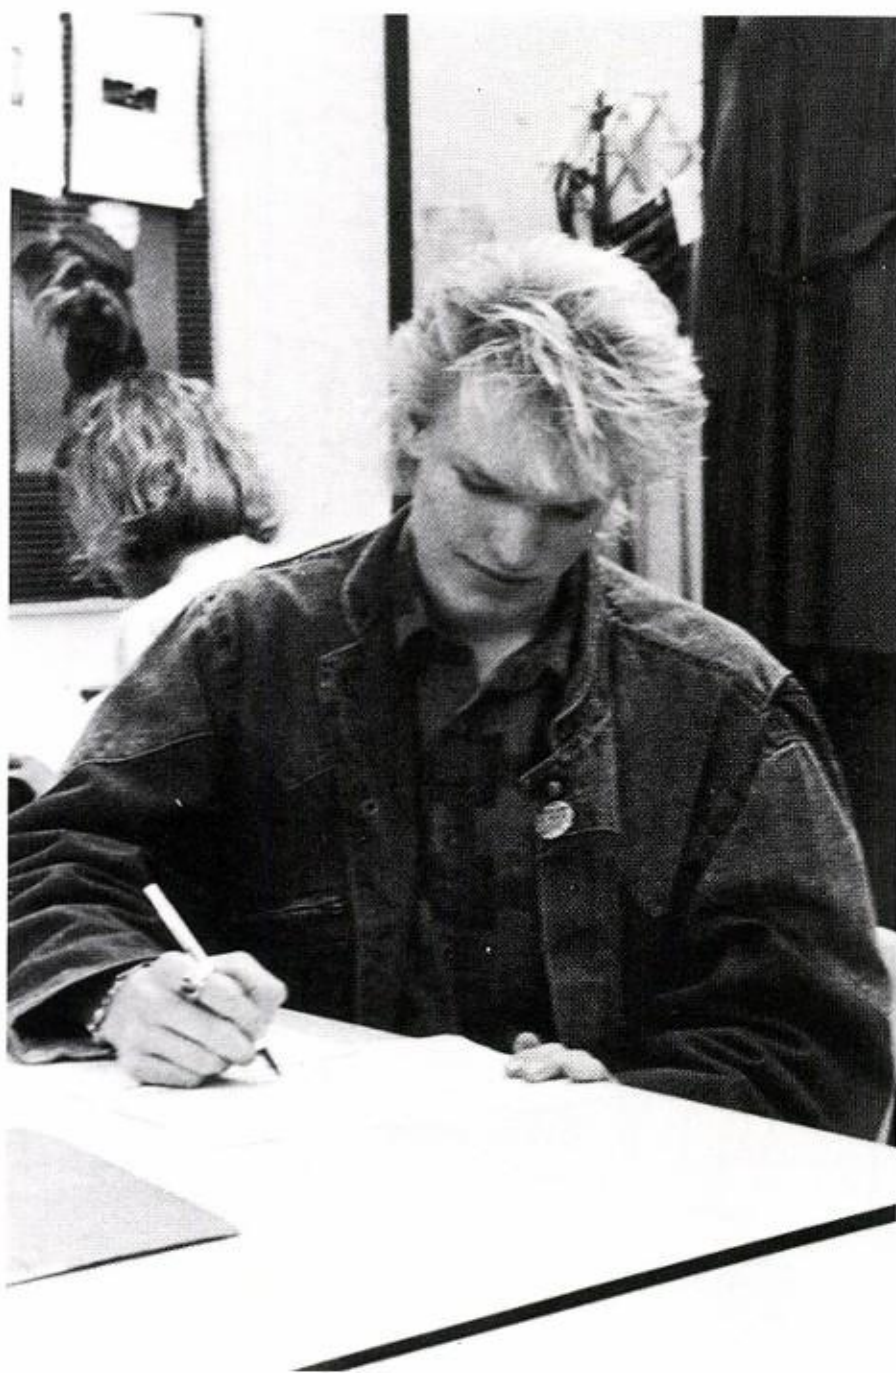

"In the UIL individual writing contests, we've made it to state two of the three years we've competed," said Barnett. "So even though we were up against some heavy-weight schools, the talent of some individuals gave us the strength we needed as a group to hold our own against the big guys."

Staff Marks 'Firsts' As Year Progresses

Quad-packs, proportion wheels, grease pencils and pica rulers were just a few items that the yearbook staff frantically searched for and used to publish the book.

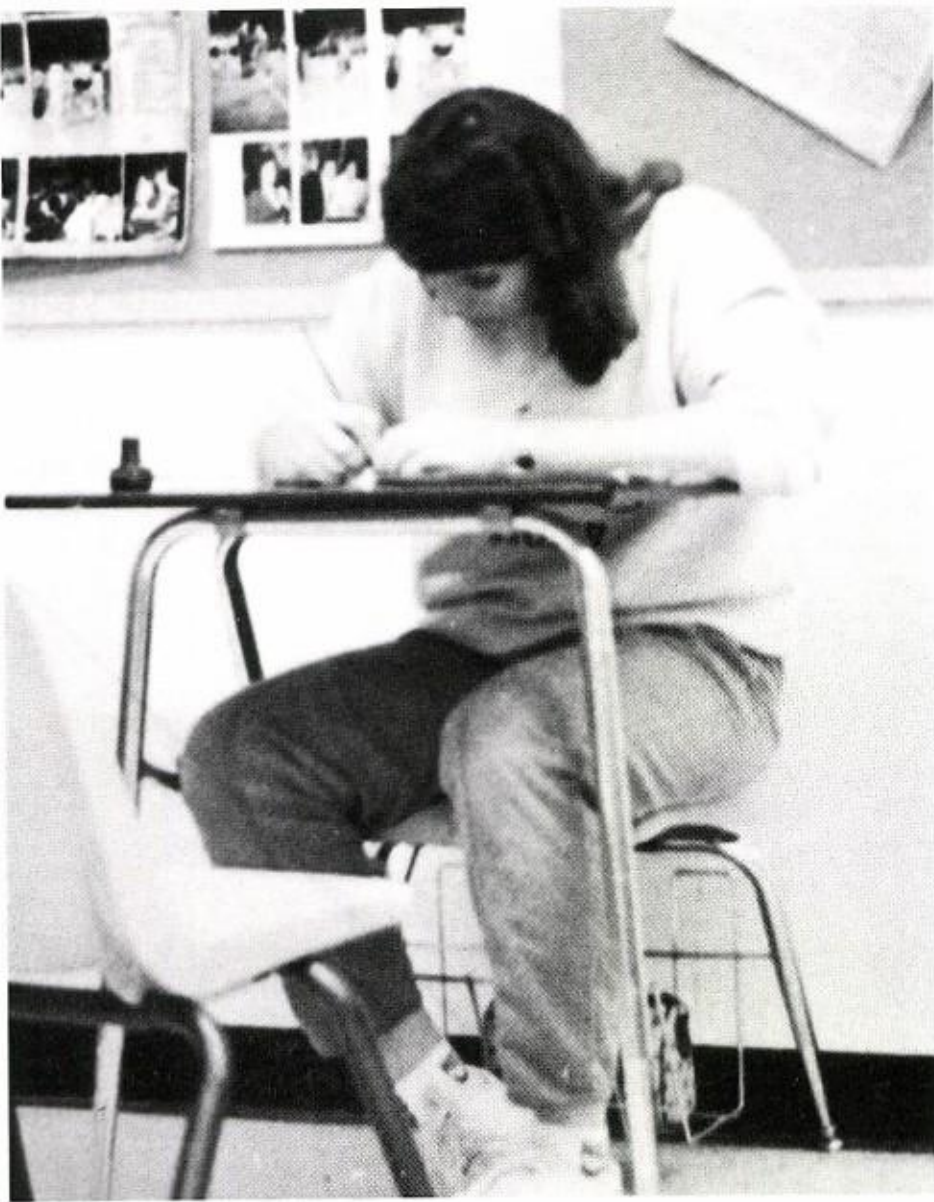

The staff, composed of 15 new and two returning members busied themselves between four deadlines with writing copy, headlines and captions; conducting interviews; selling ads; cropping photographs; and, doing page layouts.

Under the advisement of new sponsor, Mrs. Diann Whaley, the staff experienced several firsts. This was the first time that the yearbook oversold its original 800 quota in one sale. "I was extremely pleased with the way the November sale went," said Mrs. Whaley. "The response we had was very encouraging."

Also, this was the beginning of a state mandated tax on yearbooks. The final cost of the 1987 Tiger was $25 per copy; the previous yearbook sold for $20 per copy.

The cover, designed by senior Cheryl Whaley, was the first original four-color process artwork to enhance the book. In 1979, a color photograph was featured on the cover. The table of contents, as well as other graphic art, was created by Cheryl to accompany the book's theme, "the QUEST."

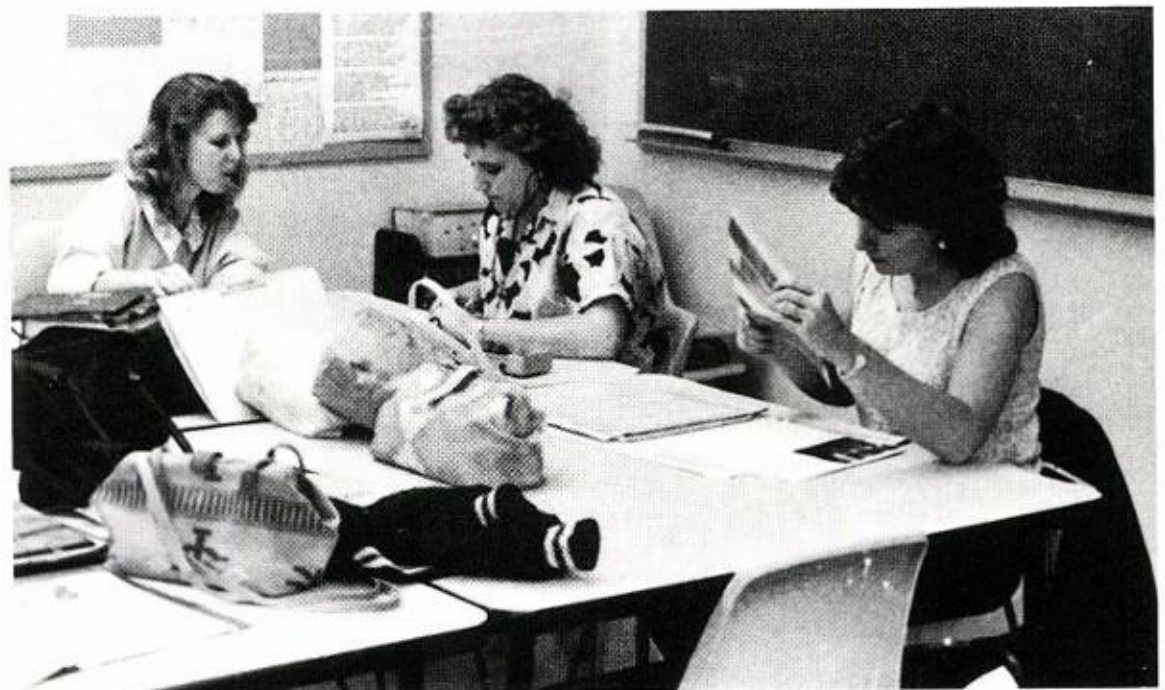

More copy was also added in order to move to a more journalistic approach.

Computer Club Hosts League Competition

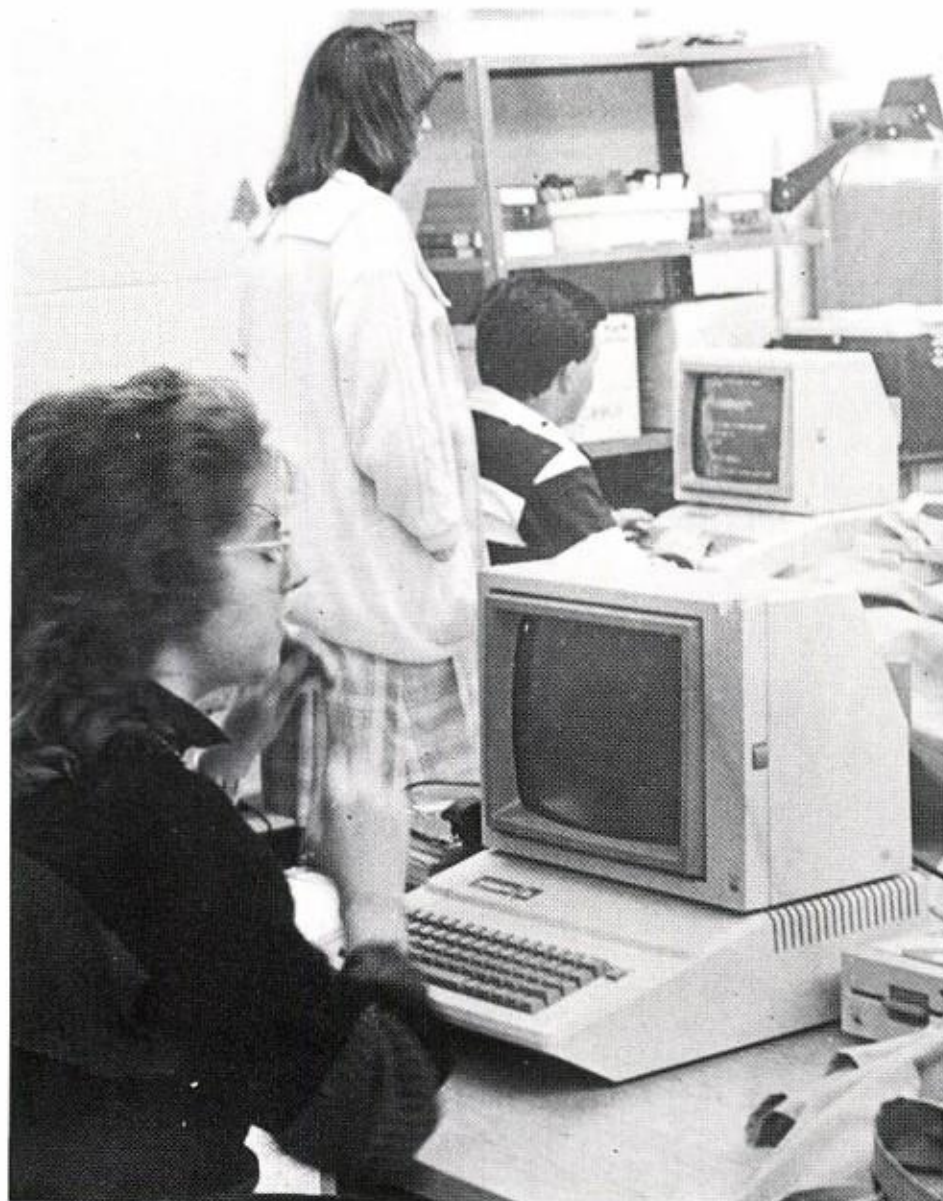

The MHS Computer Club served as the local sponsor of the American Computer Science League Contests. The contests, which consisted of a short answer part and a programming part, were held here December 19 and 22; January 20 and 23; and March 27 and 30.

Members Fred Oswald, Eric McMurry and Paul Krause participated in the contests. Junior Fred Oswald won contests during December and January.

After attending a Mobil Computer School workshop in Fort Worth during January, sponsor Joy Holloway shared ideas on computer upkeep and repair.

During the fall semester, members attended Omni Theatre's show on the space shuttle and visited the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History where they spent time in the computer section.

TAD Places 18th; Fuller Earns Medal

The MHS chapter of the Texas Academic Decathlon, sponsored by English teacher Kathy Walker, was composed of seven juniors and one senior. Members represented "A," "B," and "C" achievement levels.

Competition included tests of academic strength and communication skills in economics, fine arts, English and literature, mathematics, science and social sciences.

Members competed January 31 at South Grand Prairie High School against 23 other area schools. The team placed 18th. Tom Fuller received a bronze medal in economics.

"The competition was very difficult," said TAD Coach Kathy Walker. "The team placed well considering their lack of experience in the competition."

TAD members Laurie Smith, Mari-Chris Yarbrough and Fred Oswald listen as their sponsors inform them of competition rules and regulations.

Stephen Leake Project Brightens Holidays

The Stephen Leake Memorial Christmas Project helped needy families and other people in Mansfield. Members visited rest homes, widows/widowers, and needy homes. They presented gifts and food items, and visited with each person.

The FFA provided fresh fruit and the Student Council raised over 2,500 canned goods, all of which was given to the project. "The Christmas Project is over thirty years old," said Mr. R. L. Anderson, counselor. "We have been able to help 250 needy people in our community and we hope to help at least 300 next year."

Seventeen seniors and two juniors were selected by Mr. Anderson to participate in the service project this year. Chairpeople were: Jason Wooten, Lance Duren, Mike Krause, Celeste Clarke, and Jill Reed.

HOSA's First Year Off To Good Start

One of the newest vocational organizations was the Health Occupation Students of American (HOSA) chapter. "We are very pleased with the way our first year has gone," said sponsor Hazel Harris.

Thirty-two students enrolled in the club which centered its activities around the medical field and health care sciences. During the year they sold teddy bears and keychains as fundraisers and prepared a bulletin board in the vocational building to inform students about HOSA and related careers.

"We're very encouraged for the next year," said Mrs. Harris. "We hope to have more students participate in our chapter."

FFA Chapter Earns Silver Emblem Award

Members of Future Farmers of America received a Silver Emblem Chapter Rating during November at the 59th National FFA Convention, held in Kansas City, Missouri. Chapter officers John Boyd, Brenda Hines, Leslie Holland, Cass Hudson, and advisor Ron Whitson represented the Mansfield Chapter.

The emblem rating was based upon the chapter's degree of achievement in completion of the program of activities for the previous year. It was the second highest award that the chapter could receive, which placed them in the top three percent of the chapters in the nation.

The FFA members also busied themselves with fundraisers during the year. In October, members sold fresh fruit, assorted nuts and holiday turkeys. Proceeds of $3,200 were added to a current fund to purchase a new farm truck and helped sponsor participants in various competitions. The money is also used to help with travel expenses and entry fees for the Mansfield exhibitors.

VICA Opens Opportunities For Students

Offset Printing Trade, a chapter of Vocational Industries Clubs of America, was a two-hour class in which Mr. Dana Hamilton helped students learn the skills of the printing industry. The students learned how to print, clean the press, bill customers, and complete job orders. OPT students also did printing for the teachers and staff at Mansfield High.

Industrial Cooperative Training, another chapter of VICA, provided students with the opportunity to learn skills such as leadership, job safety, and job advancement.

By graduation, selected students will either own their own business or be employed as foremen on the job. ICT students can also work their way through college.

In Auto Mechanics, a chapter of VICA, students learned to rebuild and repair automobiles. Joe Baker, sponsor, emphasized the importance of safety to his students. The students learned their hands were tools. The Auto Mechanics students planned to work as mechanics or with machines.

Schedule

Monthly Projects

Members of the Future Homemakers of America/Home Economic Resource Opportunities dedicated each month during the school year to a specific activity. In September, members elected officers and planned the year. The chapter sold calendars and sponsored an International Festival of Foods as fundraising activities in October. Money earned was spent on attending the regional and state conferences.

A clothing drive was held during November, followed by a Christmas toy drive in December. Members focused on drug abuse in January and sold Buckle Hug cards for Valentine's Day. A prom fashion show was held in March, with proceeds benefitting the Cancer Society. During April, FHA members sponsored child abuse awareness.

At the end of the year, a scholarship was awarded to a senior pursuing a career in Home Economics.

In February, FHA/HERO gave a teacher appreciation day in which donuts and kolaches were served.

VOCT Classes Offer Variety To Students

General construction, a division of Vocational Opportunities Clubs of Texas, worked throughout the year to improve their construction skills. For their class project, a storage shed was built and sold. Instructor Joe Bryan prepared his students for future careers in electrical wiring, masonry, painting, plumbing and concrete working.

On February 27 and 28, the class participated in a district contest in which they showed their skills in various vocational fields.

General Mechanics, also a division of VOCT, spent the year learning small engine and minor car repair under the leadership of Jerry Bellows. The mechanics classes participated in district contest in February. Members competed in small engine repair and tool identification categories. The class also assembled two small engines and entered them in the contest as well.

Another branch of VOCT is Coordinated Vocational Academic Education (CVAE). In CVAE Co-Op, juniors and seniors are trained for any occupation or career in which they wish to pursue. In Co-Op they attend regular classes in the morning and in the afternoon they attend their chosen jobs, still receiving credit for working.

OEA Hosts Food Test In Spring

Members of the Office Education Association held a food taste test during the spring semester.

Money raised from the spring fundraiser was used to further students who placed first or second in OEA competition. Competition was held February 7, at T.C.J.C. on the Northwest Campus. Categories of competition included job interviewing and accounting. State competition was held in Houston. Mrs. Bowlin and Mrs. Needham were sponsors.

DECA Students Enter, Win Competitions

The Distributive Education Club of America sold peanuts and sausage during the fall as their fundraiser. The money was used to help students attend area, state, and national student competitions.

Area competition was held at College Station, February 7. Four out of five DECA members competed and won in various categories. Teresa Sanders was selected as 5-A secretary. Lance Malone and Teresa Sanders won in Food Marketing. Sharlan Campo won in Restaurant Marketing and Management. All four attended state competition March 5 and 6, in Corpus Christi.

Officers this year were: Teresa Sanders, president; Toni Myrow, vice-president; Amy Gentry, secretary; Tracey Fahnders, treasurer; Myra McClacherty, parliamentarian; Sharlan Campo, representative; and Mary Stanley, sergeant at arms. Mr. Billy Jackson and Mrs. Barbara Butler were sponsors.

Squads Display Spirit During Games, Rallies

Inspiring the crowds with routines, the varsity, junior varsity and freshmen cheerleaders led supportive Tiger fans in cheers and chants during pep rallies and games. They spent many hours learning various formations, perfecting cheers and jumps that helped to keep the spirit high.

The varsity squad, sponsored Joyce McCorkle, began preparation for the year by attending a cheerleader camp in San Marcos in late July. The 13-member team earned numerous awards which included 3 spirit sticks, 1 trophy, and 5 ribbons. Tiger mascot Jennifer Bodkins earned 1 spirit stick and 4 ribbons.

Leading the sophomores and freshmen in their support of the Tigers, the junior varsity and freshman cheerleaders showed that the underclassmen definitely had the spirit.

Junior varsity sponsor Kelly David said, "Four of the girls were freshmen cheerleaders last year which brought some experience to this year's squad. They worked very hard after school on their cheers, and their dedication showed."

Terri Wilson, freshmen sponsor, commented that although the girls were a bit shy at first, they quickly overcame it. "They're really a talented and spirited group which was exhibited at the pep rallies and games," she said.

Dixie Dolls Receive Champion Award

Returning home in late June after attending camp at North Texas State University, the Dixie Dolls earned a Grand Champion trophy and received individual awards. During camp, the Dixie Dolls worked on various routines and competed against thirty teams who represented high schools across the Dallas-Tarrant County area.

Prior to the NTSU camp, varsity officers, Monica Miller (captain), Krissy Carlock (co-captain), Kristi Brewer, Jana Harris, Courtney Lackey, and Stacy Miller (lieutenants) attended an officers camp at Southern Methodist University. The officers went to leadership seminars and learned higher level routines to be presented to the thirty-six member team.

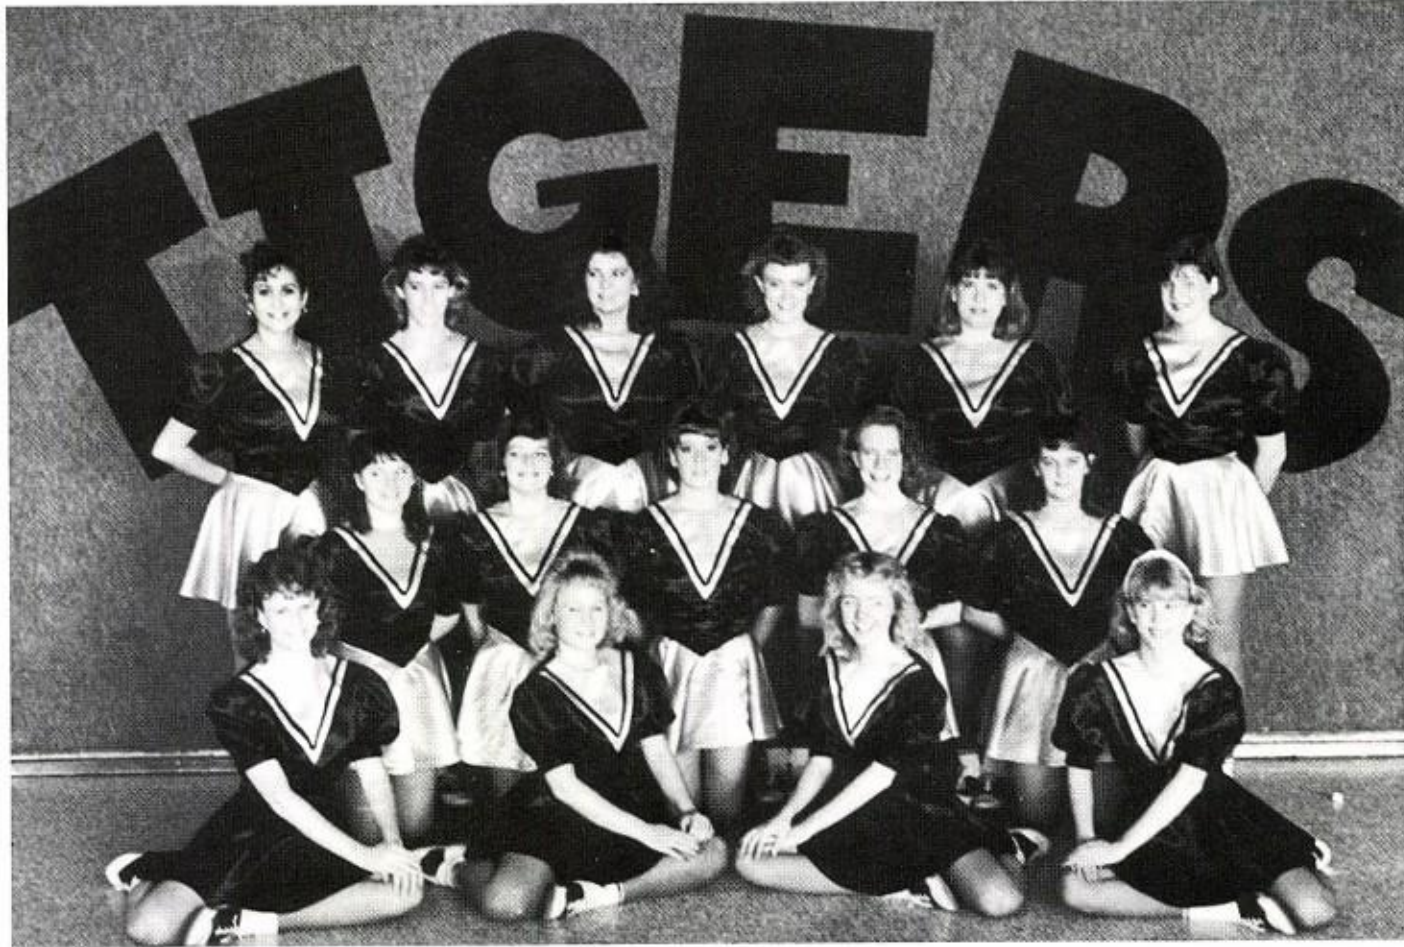

Dance routines were presented during half-time at the football games and pep rallies.

Due to a surge in interest to the drill team, a new junior varsity squad was formed. The fifteen-member team, sponsored by Vicki Vance, performed during half-time at the junior varsity football games.

Officers for the junior varsity drill team are Mellisa Hemphill (captain), Marcia Withers (co-captain), Erica McCas and Jennifer Haskins (lieutenants).

Band Rates 'Superior' At Competition

During the blistering August heat, the 1987 Tiger Band prepared for 5-A competition. In October, their hardwork and dedication paid off with the band being awarded a first division, superior rating during the University Interscholastic League Marching Band Competition.

"The band and color guard have greatly improved over last year," said Director John Parnell. "I am very pleased with their performance."

Receiving All-Region band awards were Brian Dalton, Mary Bess Corbin and Glen Royal. Earning All-Region orchestra awards were Brian Dalton and Mary Bess Corbin.

Throughout the year, the band presented several concerts. The symphonic band presented a special musical number directed by R. Neal Wiley during the Christmas concert. A spring concert was held in April which featured the seniors in their farewell performance.

Jazz Band 'Swings' Into Competition

Under the direction of Dari Hayes, the 23-membered Jazz Band rehearsed after school to perfect their musical skills.

Named outstanding Band last year, the group hoped to claim the title again this year during the Texas Christian University Jazz Band Contest in March. The band also attended U.I.L. competition at Tarleton State University during the spring semester.

Choir Members Receive District, Region Honors

This year, Mansfield had more students to make district choir than ever before. Of 20 students that tried out, 11 were named to the district choir. Those earning choir awards were Michael Betson, Missy Bowling, Mari Lee Lamb, Matt Manire, Melisa McGuire, Randy Redman, Brady Reed, Barbara Spears, Casey Wiggins, Tommy Musick, and Connie Pabel.

Named to All Region Choir were Mari Lee Lamb, Matt Manire, Barbara Spears, and Casey Wiggins. Senior Casey Wiggins also qualified for Area Choir.

Choir director Asa Low said, "They are doing an exceptional job and we plan to bring home a sweepstakes rating." During solo and ensemble contest, there were 42 solos and 8 ensemble performances.

The group performed during the year for the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, graduation, and at band concerts.

Despite Problems, The Show Goes On With Style

Despite grand performances by the 45-member cast and crew, the musical OKLAHOMA! had its share of problems prior to opening night.

During the final rehearsal, music director and producer Asa Low and the lighting crew became upset when the entire lighting system went out. The whole cast was in a stumper when they were given the news that the performances might be postponed for a week since they were lacking lights for opening night. But luck (and a little holiday magic) prevailed. A local technician arrived and began emergency repairs. Another technician was on hand during each night's performance to ensure the use of the lights.

Members of the cast were also plagued with strep throats. Mari Lee Lamb, girl lead, came down with the ailment three days before opening night. The idea of having her lipsing to Barbara Spear's voice was a possibility. However, Lady Luck once again prevailed and Mari Lee Lamb was able to continue in the show.

Opening night was mixed with feelings of excitement and nervousness by all those involved with the musical. Approximately 1200 attended the musical's performances which were later called "Mansfield's greatest performance."

"This was the best musical we have ever done," said Mary Bowles, stage director and choreographer. "The response was marvelous from both community and school members. It was just great!"

The crowd applauded favorite songs "Kansas City," "Surrey with a Fringe on Top," and "Farmer and the Cowman," as well as the choreography. Outstanding performances were given by Mari Lee Lamb (Laurey Williams), Sam Prince (Curly McLain), Christie Tanner (Aunt Eller), and Randy Redman (Jud Fory).

Other performers included Brad Campbell as Will Parker, the ignorant cowboy trying to win Ado Annie's hand from her father; Angela Cochran, as Ado Annie, the not-so-innocent girl torn between Will and Ali Hakim; Mark Stephens as Ali Hakim, the gypsy peddler fooling around with all the girls and trying to make a quick buck from anyone; and Todd Strader as the old father of Ado Annie who tries to marry her off for money.

Members of the orchestra included conductor John Parrell, Wendy Simmons, Vicki Orso, Mark Scott, Jason Klas, Glen Royall, Brian Dalton, Ronald Taylor, Bob Denton, Fred Hull, Jennifer Stinson, Otto Gallaher, Dari Hayes, Mary Bess Corbin, and Scott Feyer.

Thespians Sponsor Saturday Workshop

Singing songs on their knees in the middle of lunch, acting like sizzling bacon, and wearing blue and yellow beanies were just a few of the requirements to become a Thespian.

Many hours of hard work were required by those who sought to become Thespians. Students had to attend and participate in numerous plays. A total of 10 points, with each point representative of ten hours, of quality work awarded by Mrs. Bowles had to be acquired before membership into the international drama honor society.

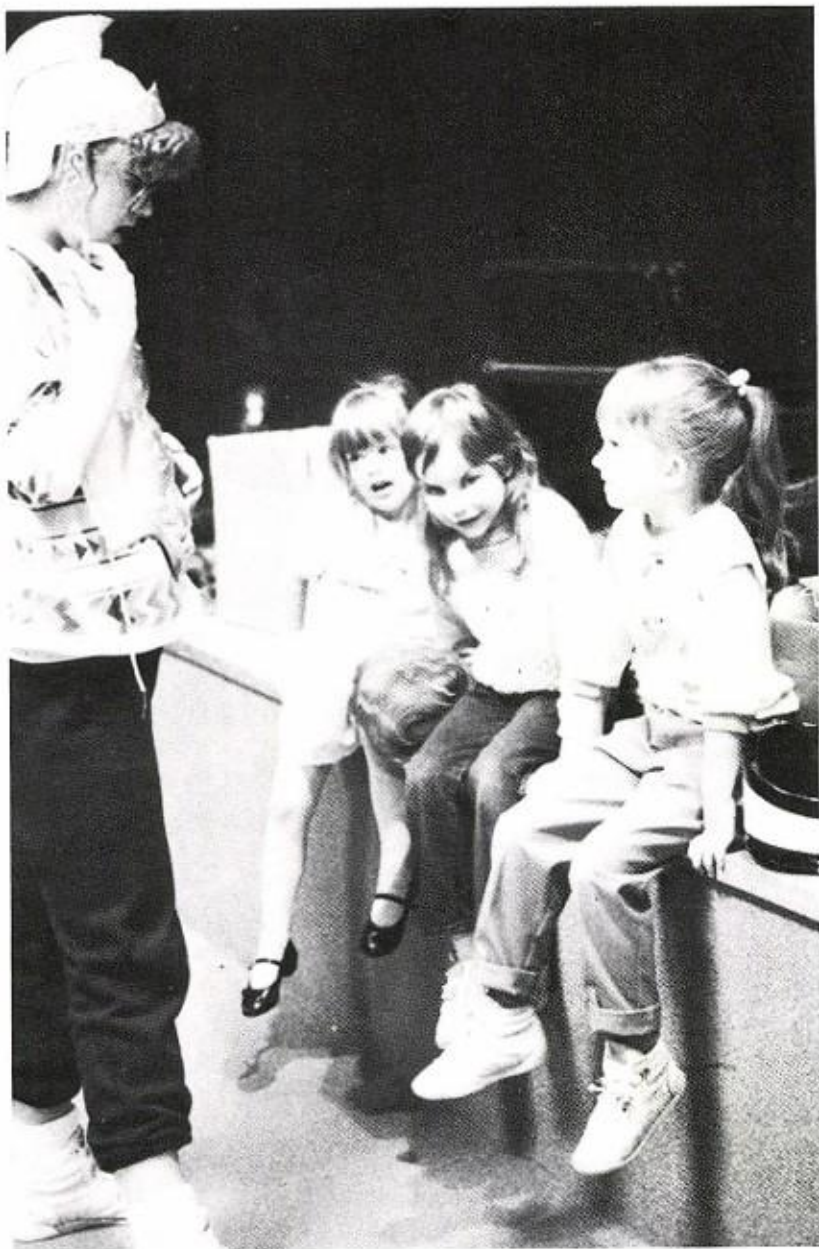

Twice a year, the Thespian Society and sponsor Mary Bowles host a Children's Workshop. The workshop was held in October and February. Children from elementary to intermediate learned improvisation skills and costume, stage and design.

Tigers Face 8-5A With Enthusiasm

Unlike previous years, the 1986 football season brought new challenges, a new district standing (8-5A) and new opponents. The Tigers squared off against teams from Grand Prairie, Irving, Duncanville, and DeSoto. Under the direction of head coach Richard Garrison, the varsity team opened their season September 5 against the Boswell Pioneers. Although the Tigers suffered a 21-14 loss, they had gained the respect and admiration of their opponents, coaches, and the community.

The following weeks brought frustration among the players and coaches, but created a desire to rebuild and regroup. "We can't help but admire the team that chose to accept a challenge with as much eagerness and enthusiasm as the 1986 Tigers did. It was a tough season, but they are to be commended for their effort," said Coach Garrison. "If the teams that follow will exhibit the same quality of character, pride, and dedication as the 1986 Tiger team did, then the football future for Mansfield is very bright."

As the season drew to a close, the varsity team had come a long way in one brief season.

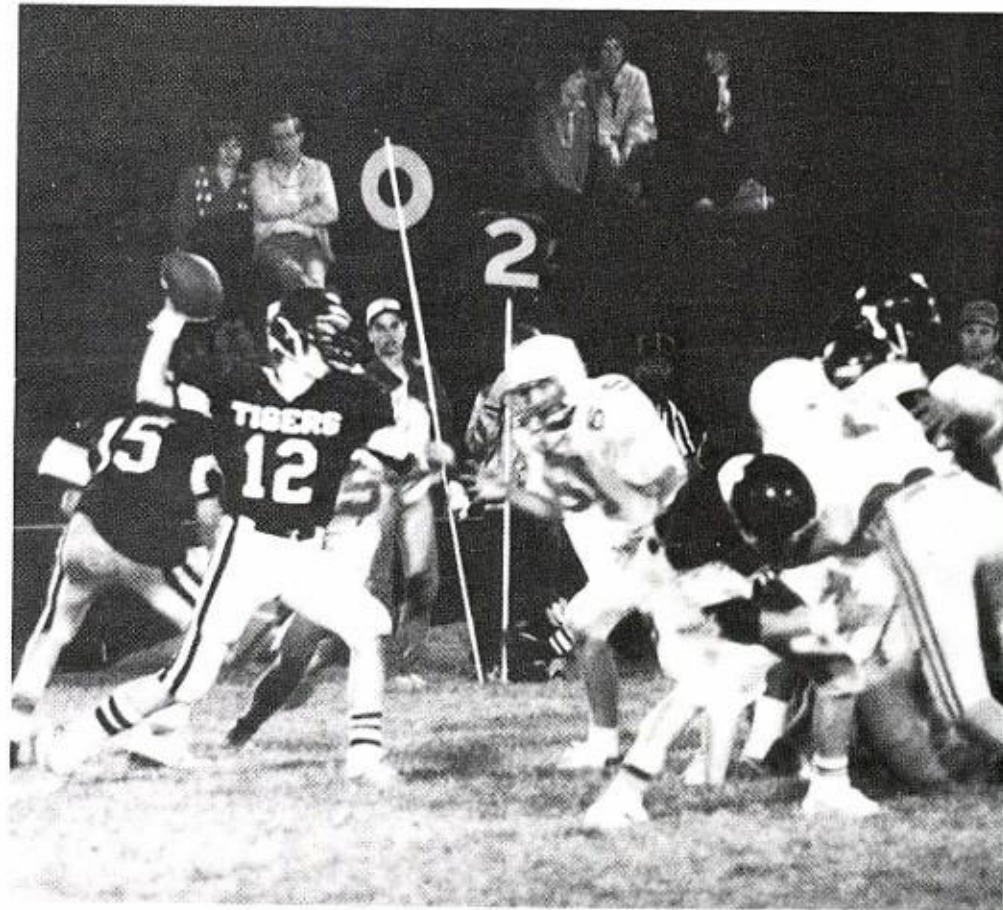

JV Fairs In 8-5A Despite Injuries

Opening their season against Boswell, the junior varsity football team stretched their season record to 3-5-2. Under the direction of Coach Louie Trammell, the team finished with a 1-5-1 district record.

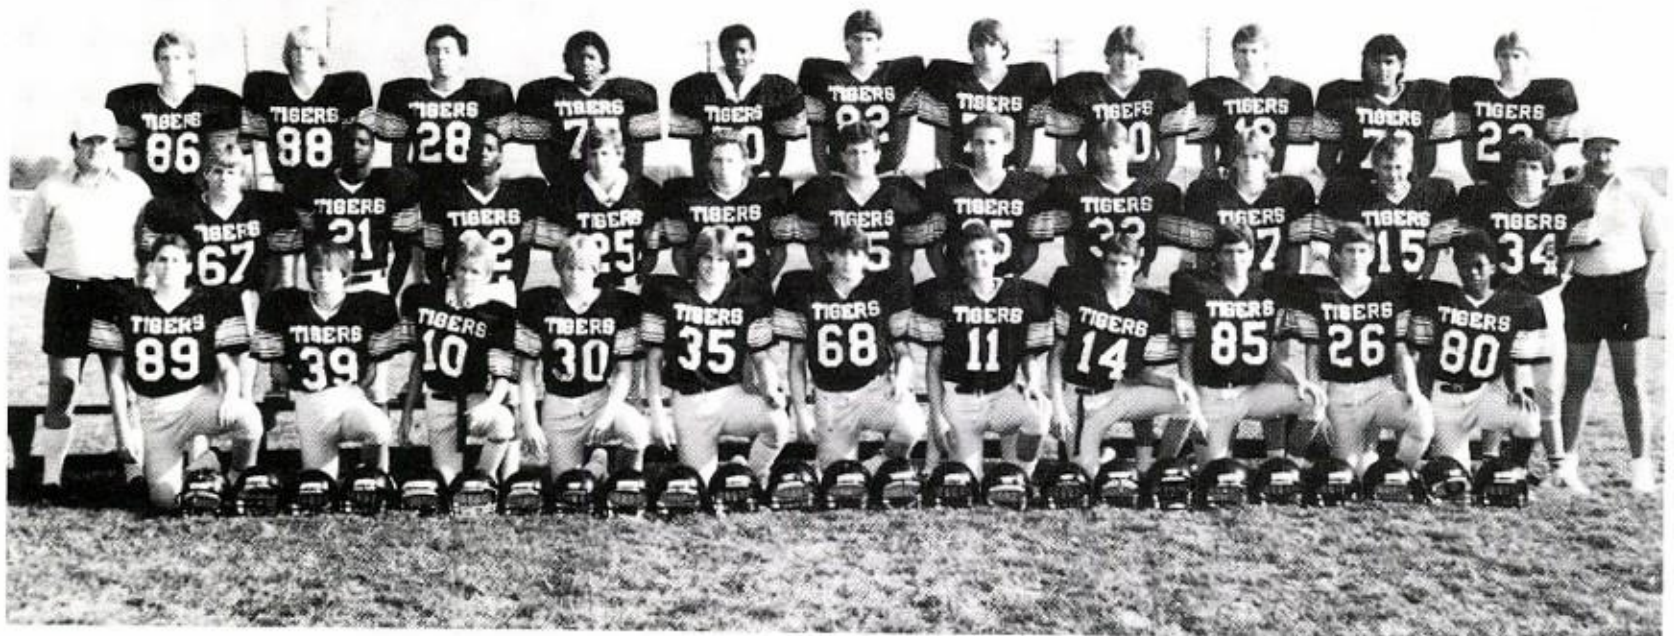

"Our goal was to win as many games as possible," said Coach Trammell, "but we were plagued with injuries — twisted ankles, sprains, just the normal sport injuries."

The JV players defeated Brewer, Joshua and South Grand Prairie, and tied against Boswell and Irving Nimitz. "There were times when we played over our heads, but the guys put out really good effort," said Coach Trammell. "They were a good group of kids."

However, the main thought of most players at the close of the 1986 season was "next year — Varsity."

Freshmen Prove to Be Tough Competitors

The freshman football team proved that they were tough and eager to compete in the new 5A division this year. Although they faced stiff competition their first year as MHS Tigers, they managed to score an average of 16 points per game.

"We scored 158 points for the season and had only 141 scored on us," said Coach David Cooley. "Most of the games that we lost were by 12 points or less, that's not bad."

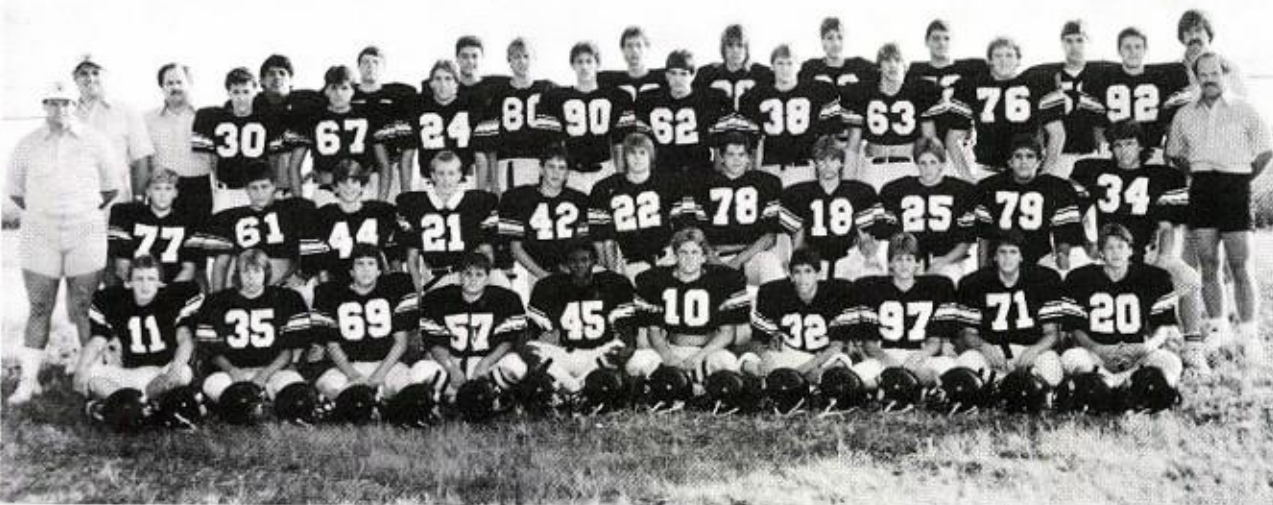

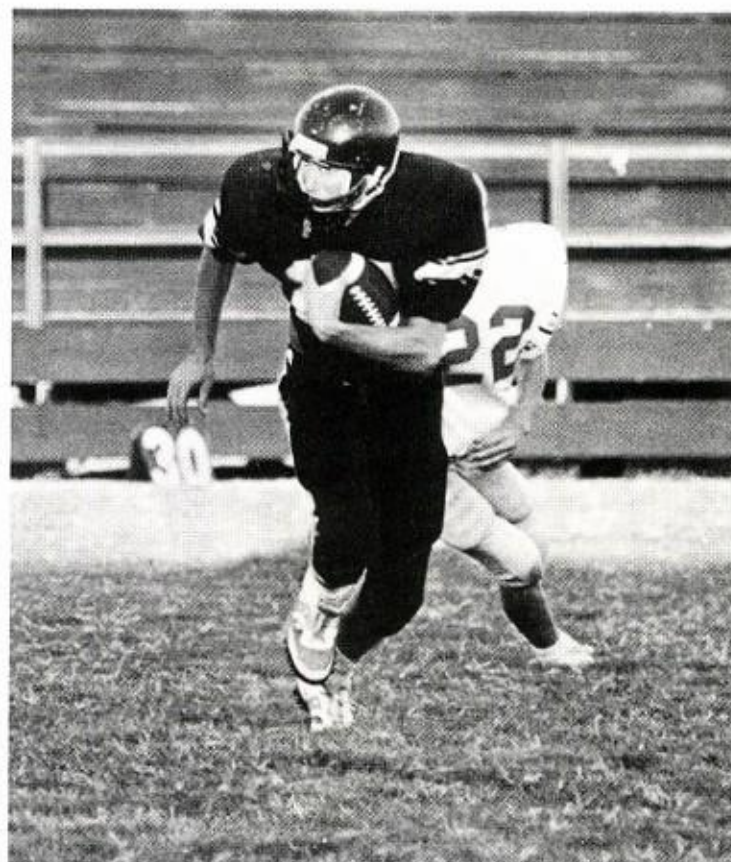

The goals set by the freshmen were to win five games during the season, which the team easily accomplished. The freshmen defeated Brewer, Joshua, Boswell, Irving, and Irving McArthur; they tied South Grand Prairie during district play.

Secondly, the team wanted to become better players as the season progressed. "We had decided that no matter what, the fourth quarter was to be our quarter," said Coach Cooley. Several key plays were made during the final quarter that earned the Tigers wins. "The fourth quarter was our big quarter, but in the future we intend to make all the quarters ours," he said.

Varsity Volleyball Spikes Into 8-5A

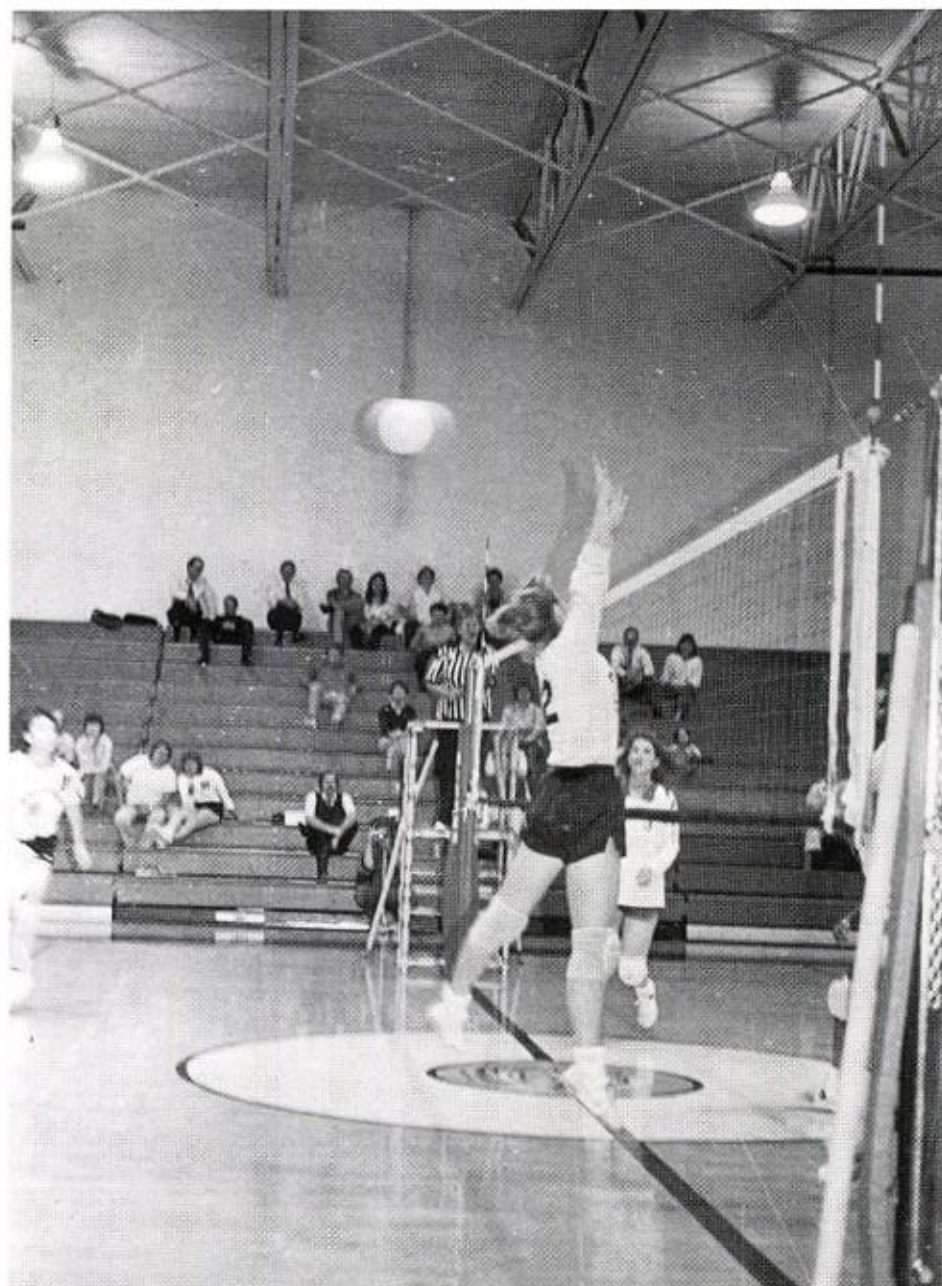

Setting their goals for a district title, this year's varsity girls volleyball team entered the 8-5A ranking with two returning members, and eight new members.

"We're a young team, but we've adjusted well," said Coach Teresa Davis. "For our first year in 8-5A we've done fairly well. We've got our foot in the door."

During the Carter-Riverside Tournament held in Fort Worth in September, the Lady Tigers claimed third place out of eight teams.

Volleyball Team Shows Skill, Competitiveness

The junior varsity girls' volleyball team showed noticeable progress during the 1986 season. The main goals of the team were to improve their skills and become more competitive within District 8-5 A.

With a season record of 20-10, the 9-member team, coached by Teresa Davis, attended three tournaments during the year. Their first competition, held at Carter Riverside in September, earned the team a consolation trophy. In the Boswell tournament, the girls received a consolation trophy; and during the Crowley tournament, they placed second.

This was the second year that the girls and Coach Davis had worked together.

Girls' Volleyball Springs Into Action

Bump, spike, set, dink, and serve were just a few terms that the freshman girls' volleyball team learned and displayed during their season. Under the direction of first-year coach, Teresa Hinojosa, the team easily reached their goals by the season's close.

"We had set goals to work as a team, learn how to set-up and spike, and we wanted to beat Duncanville," said Coach Hinojosa.

On October 18, the freshman team outscored the state-ranked Duncanville Panthers 15-13, 15-10. The 10-member group also brought home a first place trophy from the Grand Prairie tournament in October.

Lady Tigers Place Sixth In District

The 1986-87 Lady Tigers placed sixth in district 8-5A with a record of four and ten. Even though their record wasn't as good as Coach Don Watt would have liked, he was pleased with the team's effort in their first year of 8-5A competition. "This is one of the toughest districts in the state of Texas," said Coach Watt. "They really had a hard time."

The Lady Tigers competed in the Crowley tournament and finished in second place.

There were six returning members: Jill Reed, Angie Marksberry, Celeste Clarke, Kelli Gray, Taffy Furtick, and Tiffany Calvert, and five new members on this year's team.

Coach Watt hopes that this year's experience will have a positive effect on next year's team.

Tigers Find Opponents Tough In 5A Division

The 1986-87 varsity basketball team had a tough time following in last year's team's footsteps, but managed to come out on top. With only one returning member from last year, the team pulled together to win ten games.

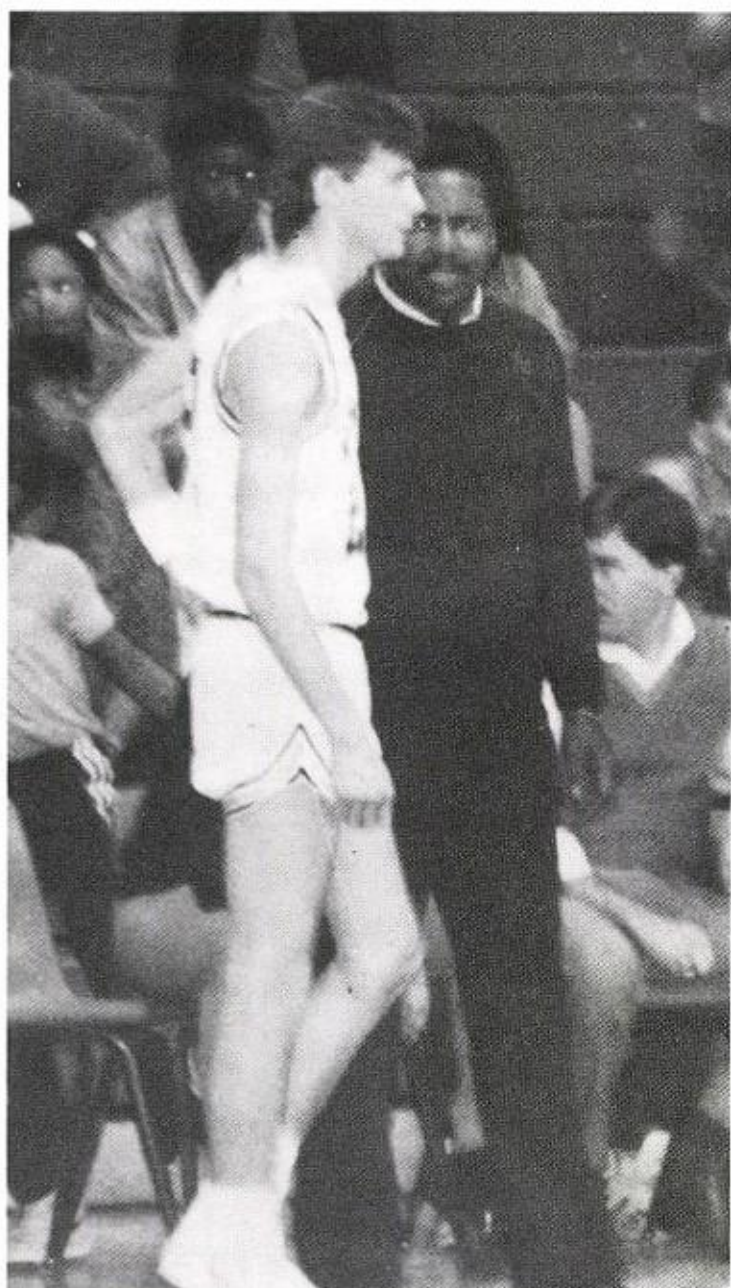

The newness of the team to the varsity level, combined with the changes in school classification, made competition very tough this year. "We were much more competitive the second half of district play," said Coach Rodney Shropshire. "Next year the team will be more experienced because most of the players will be returning."

Girls' JV Basketball Gains Experience

The girls' junior varsity basketball team experienced their first year in 5A competition with an outstanding season record of 19-9 and district record of 7-7.

"We had a pretty good year. Coach Davis taught us a lot," said team member Jodi Allen. "We had our ups and downs, but when we were up, we were awesome!"

Kim Riddle added, "Our team was like a family because we've played together since the seventh grade. We've grown up together and we know basically how each other plays."

Although the team anticipated the idea of playing on the varsity team next year, they continued to work after the season's close. Shannon Hoffner commented that "we've come a long way, but we still have a way to go."

JV Basketball Team Gets Strong Start

Getting off to a strong start was just one of the junior varsity boys' basketball team. Impressive victories over Ennis (65-57) and Carter-Riverside (92-32) caught the attention of their opponents.

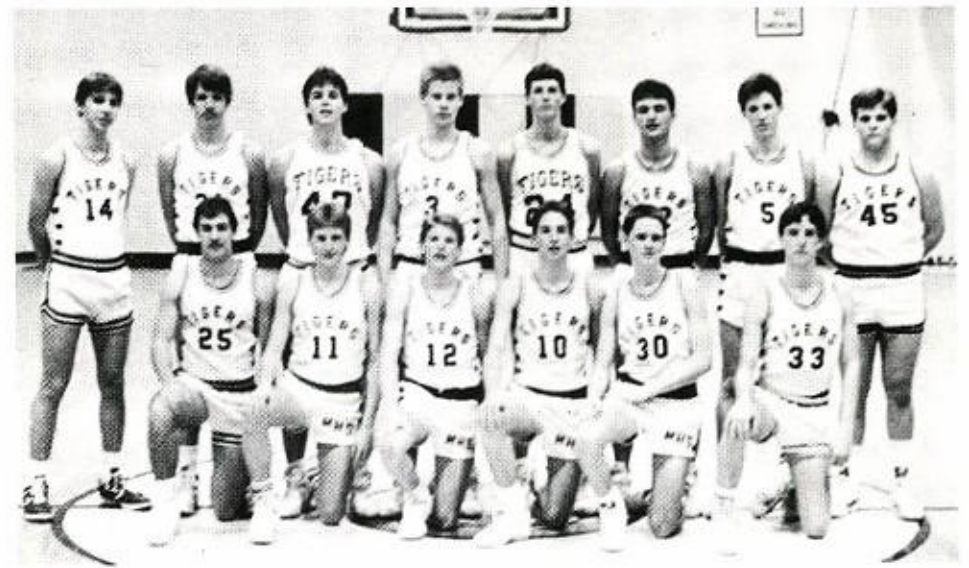

Composed of both sophomores and juniors, the team had an overall season record of 14-16. Their District record was 5-9.

"We started out real strong," said Jamie Hedges, "but we slacked off at the beginning of district play and that cost us."

Sophomore Judd Douglas added, "We really had a well-rounded team. We'll play better as a team next year."

Girls' Basketball Claims Third Place

Although newcomers to MHS, the freshman girls' basketball team proved that they had the Tiger spirit. With an overall district record of 10-4 and a 15-7 season, the girls claimed third place in 5A.

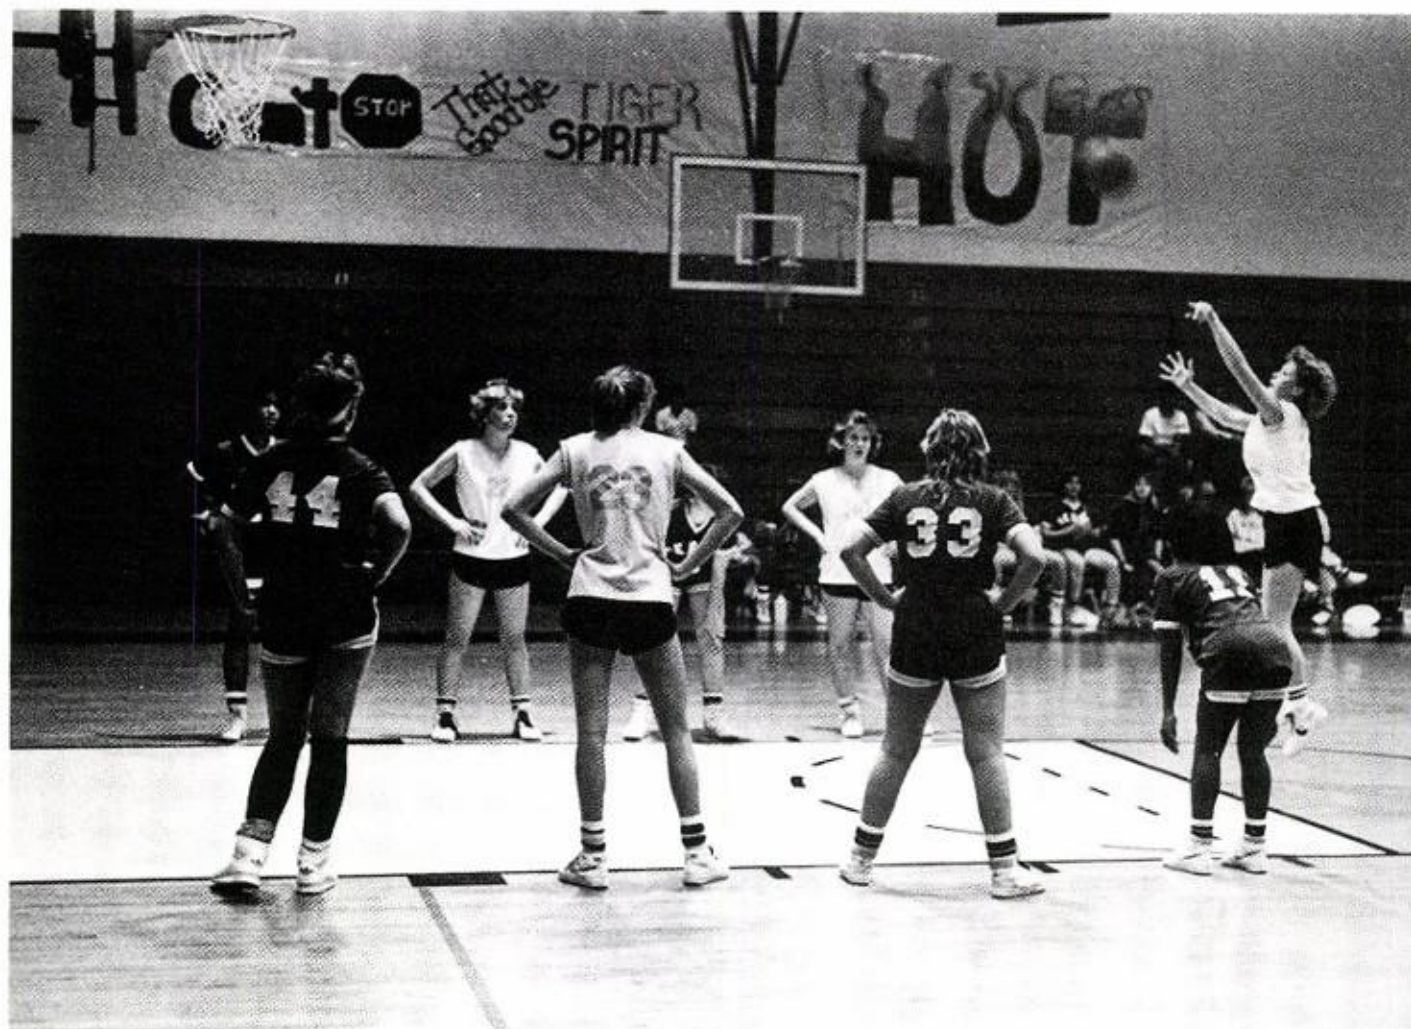

"The whole team was outstanding," said Coach Teresa Hinojosa. "They all worked together and encouraged each other in order to win."

Duncanville was the only team that the freshman Tigers lost to in both rounds of district play. During tournament competitions, the team placed second twice and was awarded a consolation trophy.

Freshman Display 'Promising Future'

With a district record of 9-13, the freshman boys' basketball team learned what true Tiger spirit was.

"The freshmen were a talented group with a promising future," said Coach Eddie Grimes. "I think that they've learned that they can compete at the 5A level and be successful."

Freshmen defeated Irving, Grand Prairie, Nimitz, and MacArthur in district play.

Tennis Team Awaits New 5A Challenge

Purchasing tennis balls, restringing rackets and getting new outfits were just the beginning for the 1987 tennis team. Members practiced every day after school for two hours to get into shape for the 5A challenge.

The tennis team was composed of 11 returning and six new members. Under the direction of Coach Don Watt, team members competed in various area tournaments during the year. "We're getting ready and I think we'll be competitive," said Coach Watt.

At tennis practice, Missi Newbury warms up by doing a few ground strokes.

Cross-Country makes tracks toward title

The nine-member team was strong competitors again this year. After school practices paid off as the team, coached by Ronnie Daum, claimed various place standings at local tournaments.

The junior varsity team received second place during the Mountain View College meet and fourth place at the Narbuck Park meet. Janie Muniz, the only girl running with the team, placed seventeenth in the two-mile run.

With great determination and confidence, the cross-country team strove to claim another district title.

Expectations High For Track Teams

The boys' and girls' track teams were off to a running start as their spring season began.

"We have high expectations for them," said Coach William Hughes. "They're a good group."

Members of the track teams competed in various field and running events. Field events included high jump, long jump, triple jump, shotput, and discus. Running events included relay, 100-meter and 200-meter dashes.

Several members of the girls' team returned for another year of competition. They were Melodie Sawyers and Tricia Finley, running sprints and relays; Kris Alderson, throwing discus; and Janet Kasinger and Mary Rains, running dashes.

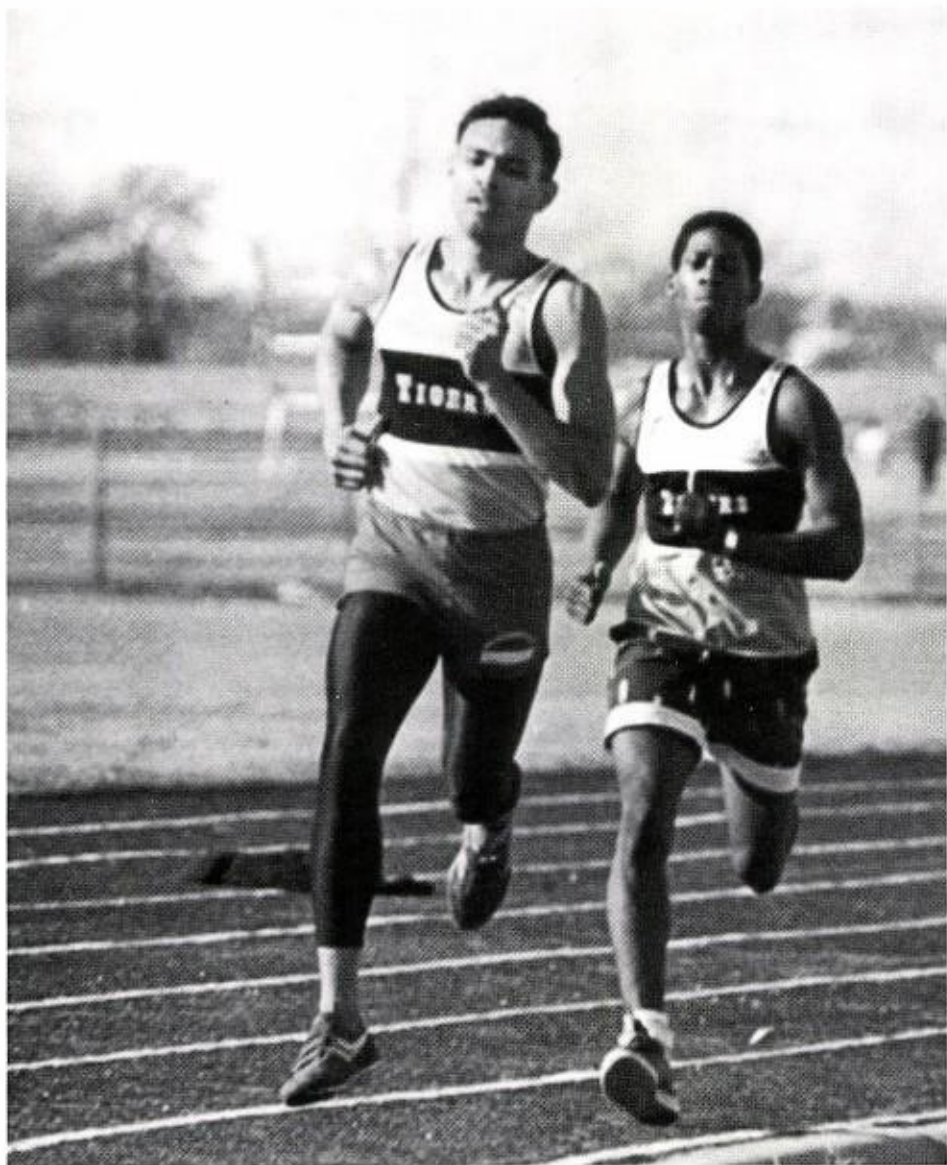

The boys' team was composed of Chris Whitfield jumping hurdles, and Mike Delagerheim and Brett Koss throwing shotput and discus.

Leading, Janet Kasinger and Shannon Walker set the pace for new track members.

Golf Team Tees-Off With Invitational

Golf balls and tees were purchased to prepare for the new season. This year's golf team, coached by Kevin Klein, consisted of 7 returning and 4 new members. The golfers faced the 5A season with confidence and were eager to swing into action.

For the first time Mansfield sponsored an open invitational golf tournament. The invitational was held in March at Walnut Creek Country Club.

"We have played other 5A teams before, and have done fairly well against them," said Coach Klein. "The team has also had enough experience so the challenge shouldn't be much of a change at all."

During golf practice, Ricky Peebles concentrates on his chipping.

JV Baseball Bats Toward 5-A Title

Members of the junior varsity baseball team began spring training in early February. Composed of 18 players, five of whom returned from last season, the team scrimmaged against Midlothian, Alvarado, and Grandbury.

"The JV team is a very efficient group of guys," said Coach Les Young. "They're a very young, but talented team."

The season officially began February 24.

Varsity Baseball Aims For Success

Starting this year off with several exhibition games, the Tigers won their first scrimmage against Midlothian 9-7. "To compete solidly on a 5-A level," said Coach Louie Trammel, "would be great." Trammel felt that a scrimmage was not a total test of their ability because it doesn't really count on the records.

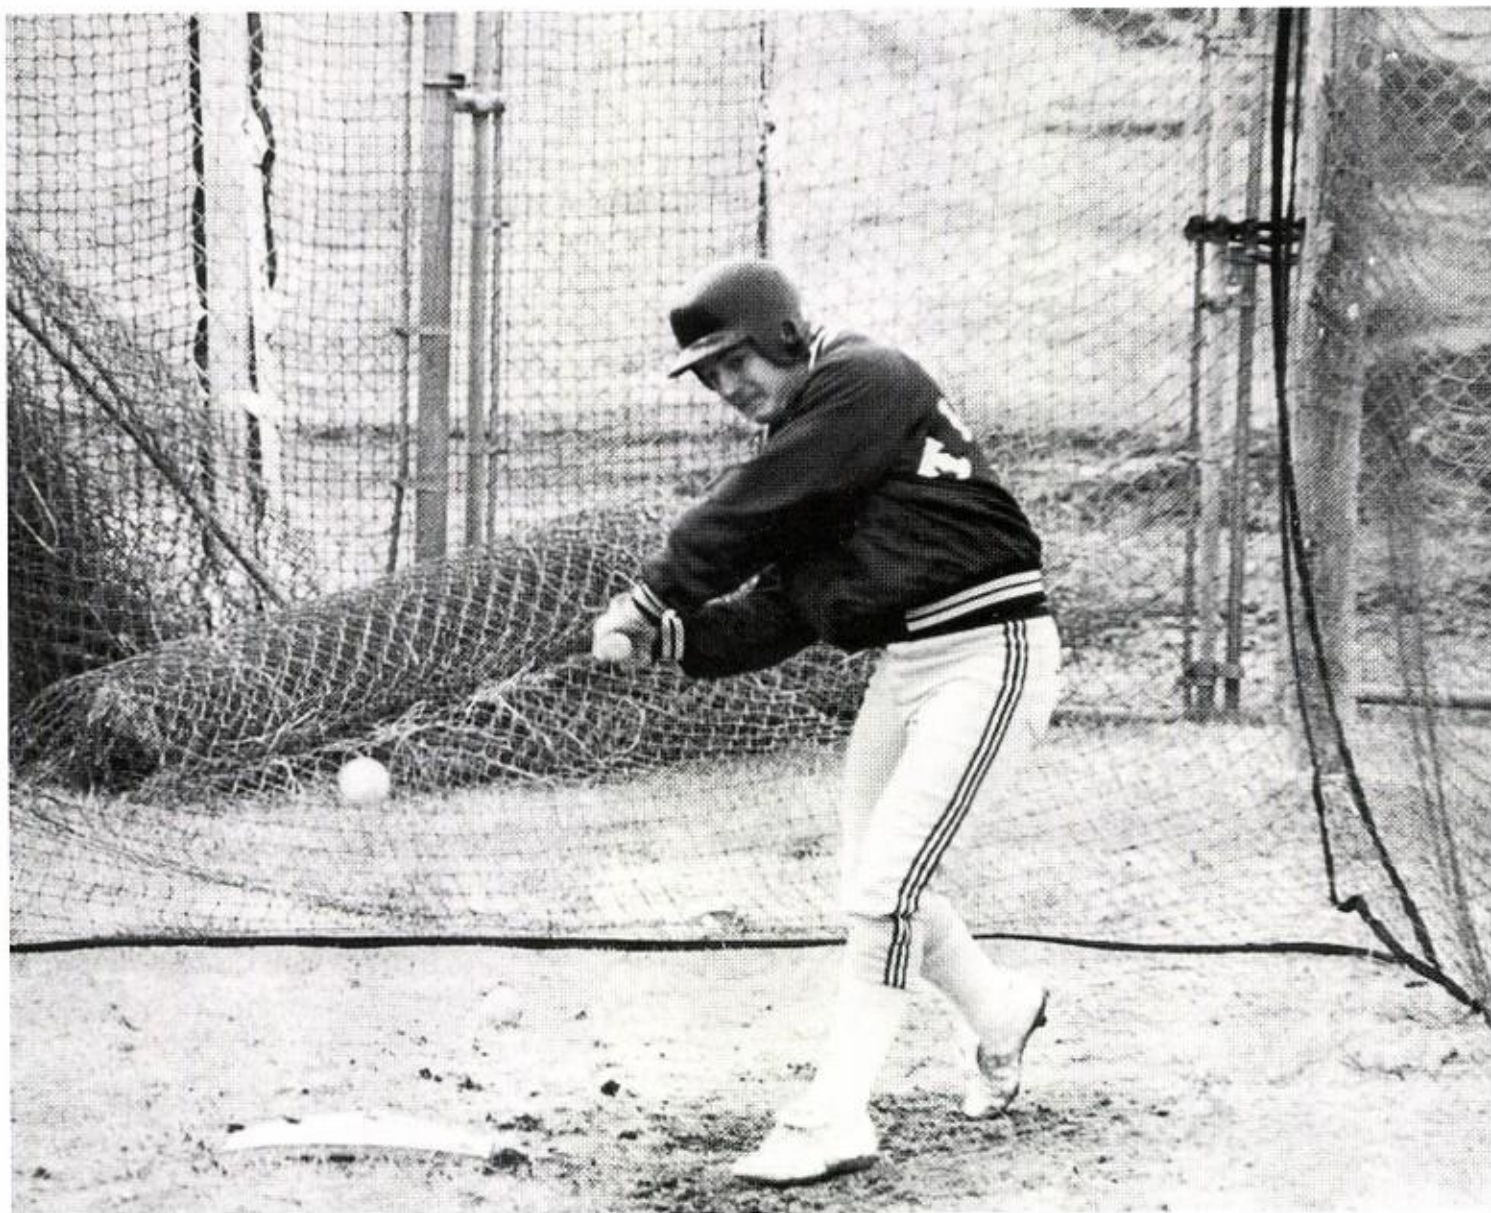

Most of the varsity were returning members of last year's team. The team hopes to set a trend in the new 5-A district.

18 Receive Who's Who Awards

The Who's Who award is an annual title given to one particular senior student who has shown outstanding ability in a specific area. Each recipient was selected and voted on by the teacher, sponsor or department chairman. The winners this year deserved the award for their contributions and achievements in their field of study.

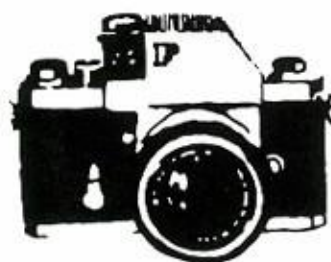

Kether Valdes was active in Theatre Arts for the past four years. She participated in several theatre productions and has received numerous school and UIL awards.

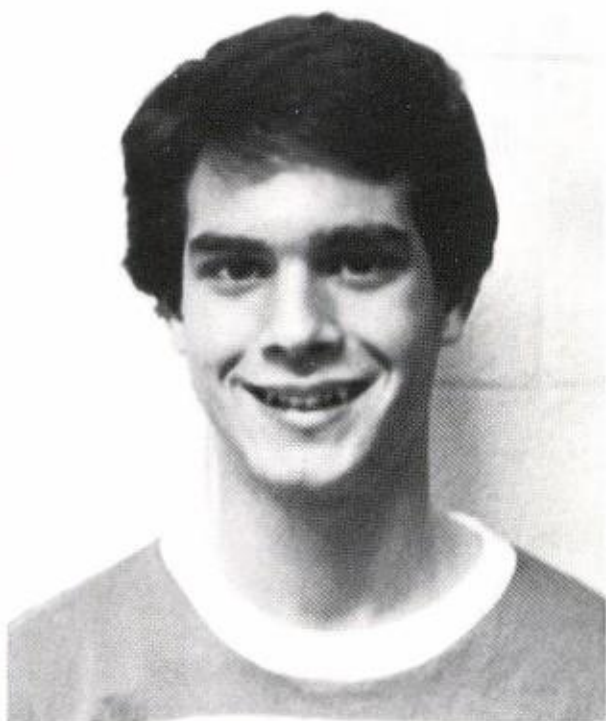

Rob Rudnicki has taken four high school art courses, including Honors Art. He was one of the most outstanding student artists this year because of his artistic abilities and ideas.

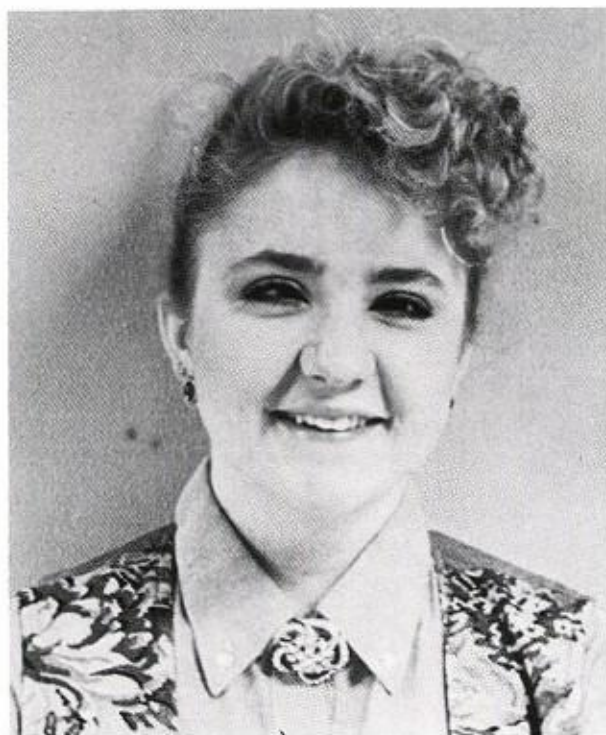

Cheryl Whaley not only served as graphic artist of the yearbook, but also functioned as staff photographer. Around deadline time, she devoted many hours after school and on weekends photographing school events, developing film and printing pictures.

Brian Dalton was named to the McDonald's All-American Band earlier in the year. He has also accumulated numerous titles such as All-Region, All-State and All-American band, jazz band and orchestra membership the past three years.

Mari Lee Lamb has held female leads in Music Man and OKLAHOMA! productions and has been active in choir during the past three years. She has received Division I and II ratings and has been named to All-District and All-Region choir.

Cindy King served as editor-in-chief of the Bengal Beat this year. She received an award in UIL competition as a first year journalism student.

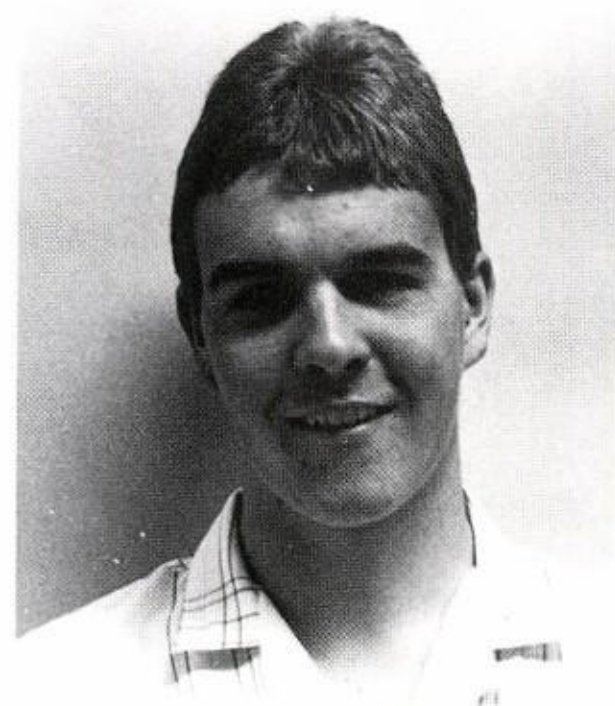

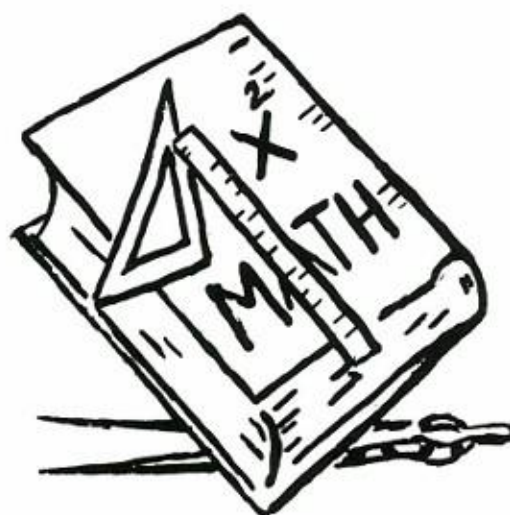

Jason Wooten was named Who's Who in social sciences for his outstanding efforts academically as a student with keen insight during discussions concerning current events.

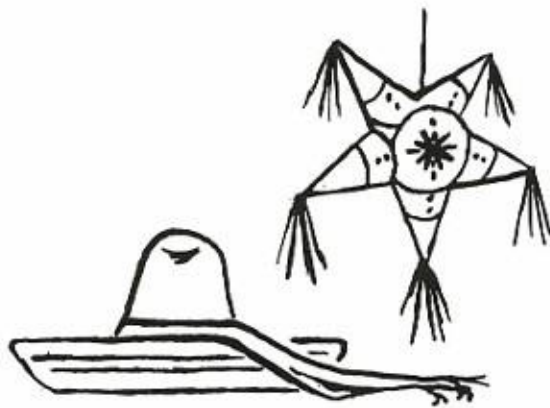

Outstanding ability of understanding the processes of life, logical reasoning, creativity, high grades and excellent laboratory skills earned Biology II student Jo Lynn Schneider the Who's Who award for science.

James Jones has taken advanced mathematic classes during his years at Mansfield High and has maintained an "A" average in all of his math courses.

Celeste Clark was awarded Who's Who in Spanish. She maintained an almost perfect grade average in the foreign language for the past two years.

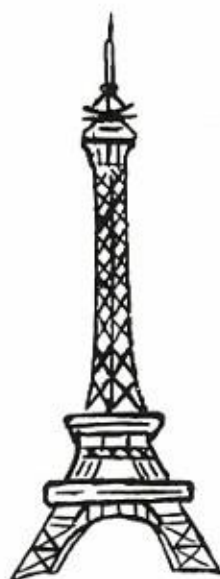

Becky Faulkner served as president of the German Club and had the highest grade average of all seniors enrolled in German.

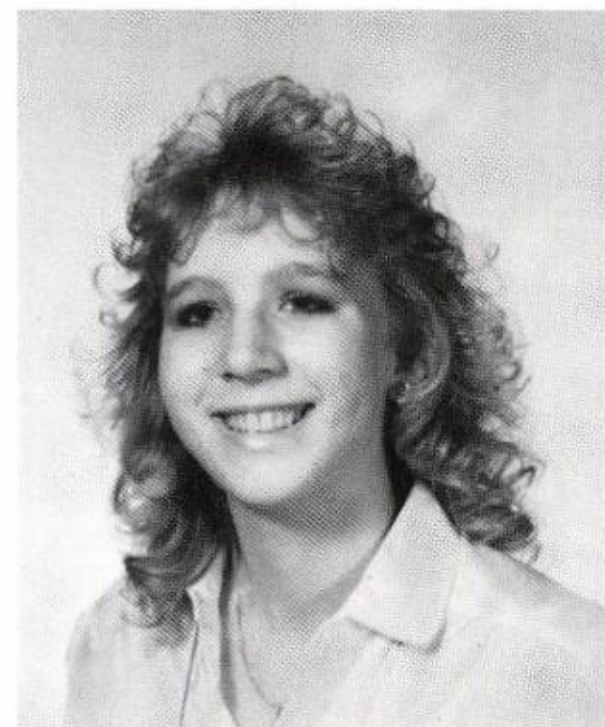

Having excellent writing skills and literary knowledge earned Jenny Buttner the Who's Who award in English. She also had an outstanding grade average for the past four years and was enrolled in the honors English program.

Jenny Buttner was described as an outstanding and very concerned student who consistently did an excellent job. Because of these characteristics, she was named Who's Who in French.

A pleasant and cooperative attitude earned Missie Hawes the Who's Who in Homemaking. She was described as an "excellent student with a positive attitude toward learning."

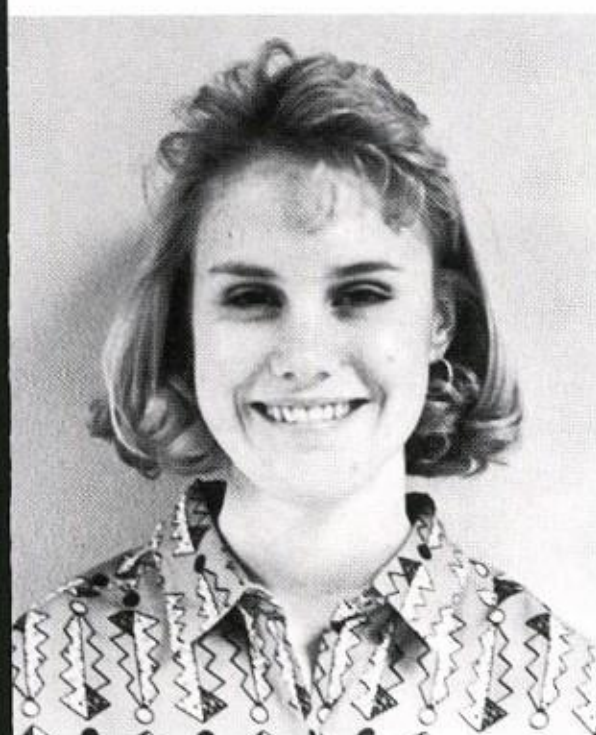

Leda Corbin was the Vocational Department's selection for Who's Who. She exhibited outstanding efforts and dedication to the Clinical Rotation Class of Health Occupations during the year.

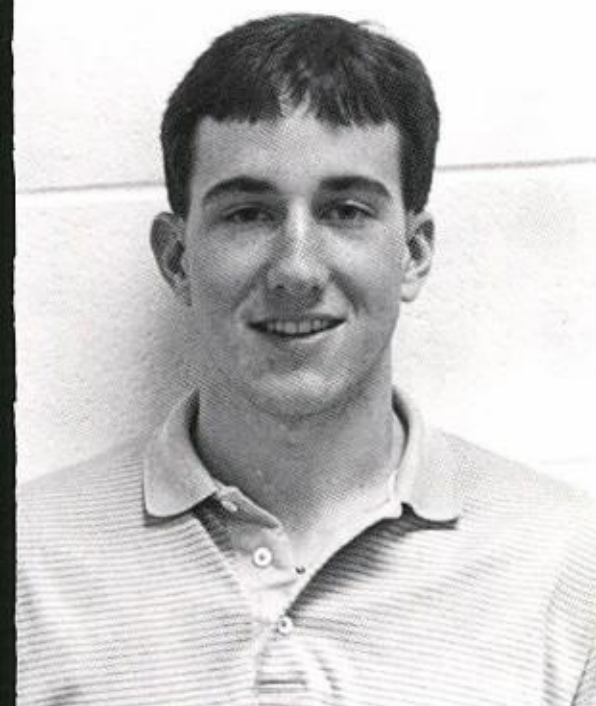

John Martinez took the complete realm of business subjects while attending MHS. His teachers described him as a "well-mannered, conscientious and highly-motivated student who is a high achiever in every aspect of business."

Kim Harmon was selected as Who's Who in Girls' Athletics. A member of the Lady Tigers Volleyball team, she was named to the first year of All-District this year.

Jason Wooten has been involved in athletics all four years at MHS. He was the starting wide receiver for the football team, point guard for the basketball team and played second base on the varsity baseball team.

Students Receive Honors Awards

Individual awards for outstanding work done in class were given to students selected by the high school faculty. These students received the awards at the National Honor Society Awards Night on May 20, 1986.

UIL Teams Compete In 14 Categories

The University Interscholastic League academic teams competed in 14 events on March 28 in Grand Prairie. Students participated in accounting, editorial, feature, news and headline writing, poetry and prose interpretation, ready writing and spelling. Number sense, calculator application, shorthand, typing and science were other categories of competition.

In Accounting competition students were given one hour to answer questions on elementary principles used in accounting, such as financial planning, analysis and interpretation of business records. This was the second year that students participated in the UIL contest.

Journalism categories included editorial, feature, news and headline writing. In the headline contest, participants were given 30 minutes to write six headlines based on copy (stories) and measurements they were given. Contestants in editorial and news writing were allotted 45 minutes to write stories; feature writers were given one hour to produce a story.

Poetry and prose interpretation provided students with the opportunity to communicate their understanding and appreciation of literary works to an audience. Students were judged on communication skills and the ability to analyze works without distorting the text.

Contestants in the ready writing category were asked to formulate essays based on assigned topics. Within two hours, participants in the spelling competition were given a 120-word test in which scores were given on penmanship and correct word spelling.

In number sense, students worked mathematical problems mentally without the aid of calculators or scratch paper. Calculator application included problems in addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, root powers, exponent and trigonometric functions.

Other business areas included shorthand competition in which students were given an 80-word-per-minute dictation and translation test. Members in the typing contest were given two five-minute tests in which they were judged on speed and accuracy.

The science contest was designed to promote reading in science based upon a list of recommended books and periodicals. Contestants answered 60 objective questions over Biology, Chemistry and Physics in a two-hour time period.

ONDINE
A Stage Full Of Excitement

Mansfield High School's Fine Arts Department presented Ondine, by Jean Giraudoux, for UIL one-act play competition which was held March 14 at South Grand Prairie High School.

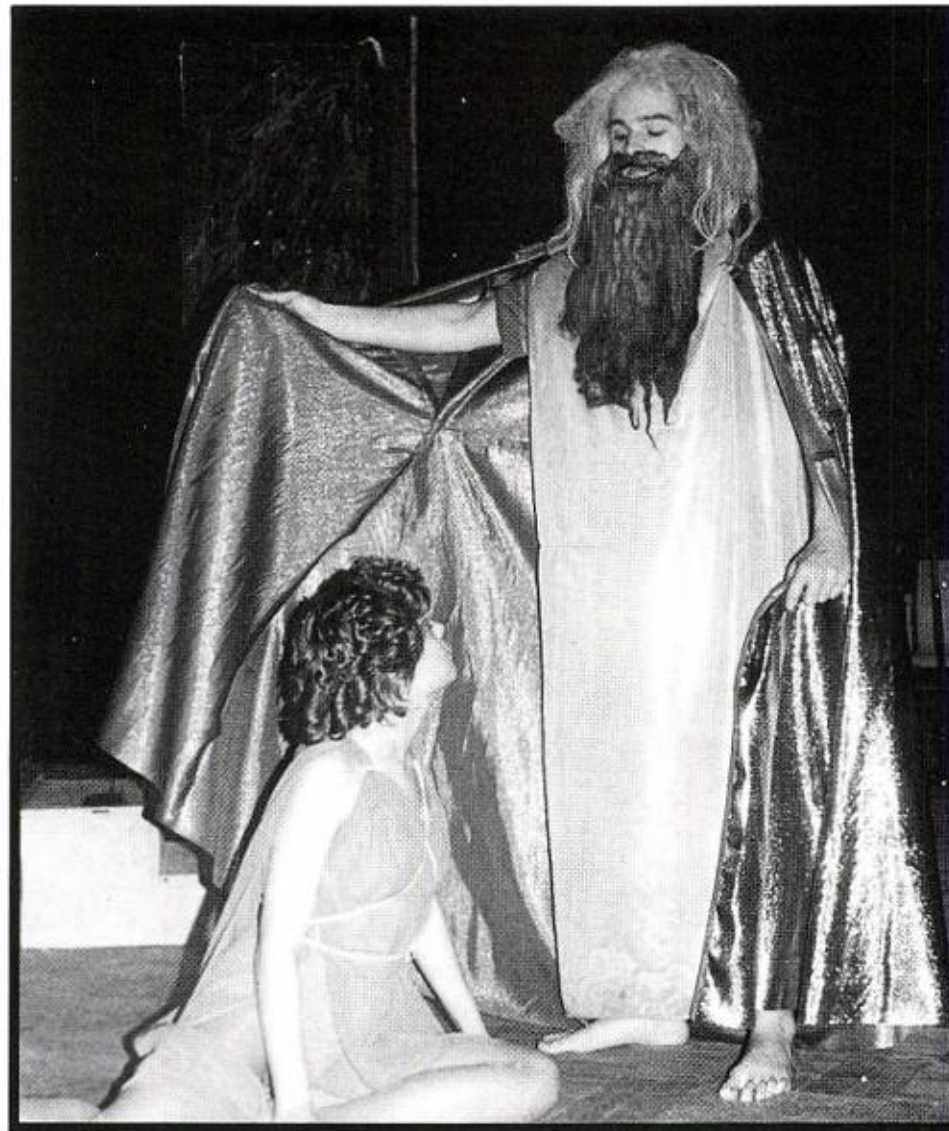

Finding a play to take to competition was Mrs. Bowles' hardest job. "It (the play) has to have a great deal of literary value as well as being suitable to the actors and actresses," she said. Since Ondine was a full-length play, she had to cut it to meet UIL regulation time of 45 minutes.

Ondine, a basic, tragic love story between a water spirit (Ondine) and a German knight (Hans), was presented to the community on March 12 and 13.

Right: Hans (Brad Campbell) is surrounded by water nymphs.

Below: The King (Sam Mitchell) listens as Ondine offers advice.

To Be An Actor:

People sometimes wonder what drives a person to the stage. Brad Campbell (Hans) and Sam Prince (The Old One) both agreed that it was a dream of theirs since their youth.

When asked what they liked about the stage, Brad replied, "I wanted a chance to entertain and make people happy." Barbara Spears said that it was "the thrill of being able to play out a dream."

Every actor and actress has their own philosophy on life and acting, but most agreed that it was the excitement of the stage that drew them back.

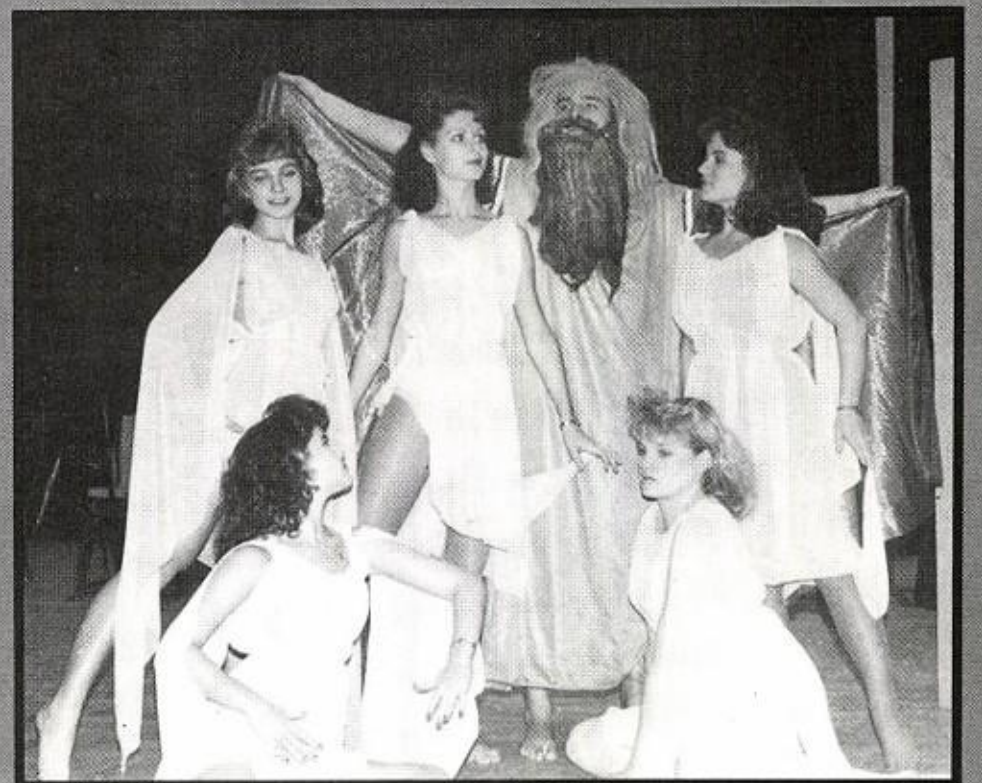

The Cast:

Members of the UIL one-act play were Angela Kahler (Ondine), Brad Campbell (Hans), Sam Prince (The Old One), Sam Mitchell (Auguste), Abi Valdes (Eugenie), Austin Buff (Chamberlain), Matt Manire (Superintendent), Kether Valdez (Bertha), Cory Sparks (Bertran), Sam Mitchell (The King), Matt Manire (Fisherman), Austin Buff (First Judge), Ali Lynch (Second Judge), and Angela Cochran, Mindy Hardage, Alicia Berryman, Erica Montoya, Lisa Rost (Water Nymphs).

Basketball Coach Receives Dedication

Many teachers are good classroom instructors, others are also friends, student supporters, and in some cases — a coach. Rodney Shropshire demonstrated qualities that made him successful both in the classroom and along the basketball sidelines.

Coach Shropshire began his teaching career in 1976 at Jackson Middle School in Grand Prairie. He later came to Mansfield High School as a physical education teacher and to coach junior varsity boys' basketball.

A Sam Houston State University graduate, he led the 1986 boys' varsity Tiger team to a regional championship title and a state play-off berth; something that will be long remembered by the community.

In the classroom, some of Coach Shropshire's students regard him as a "teacher who cares." He commented, "I like to see kids get better. It's great to see them grow and learn to be a part of a team, and to be unselfish."

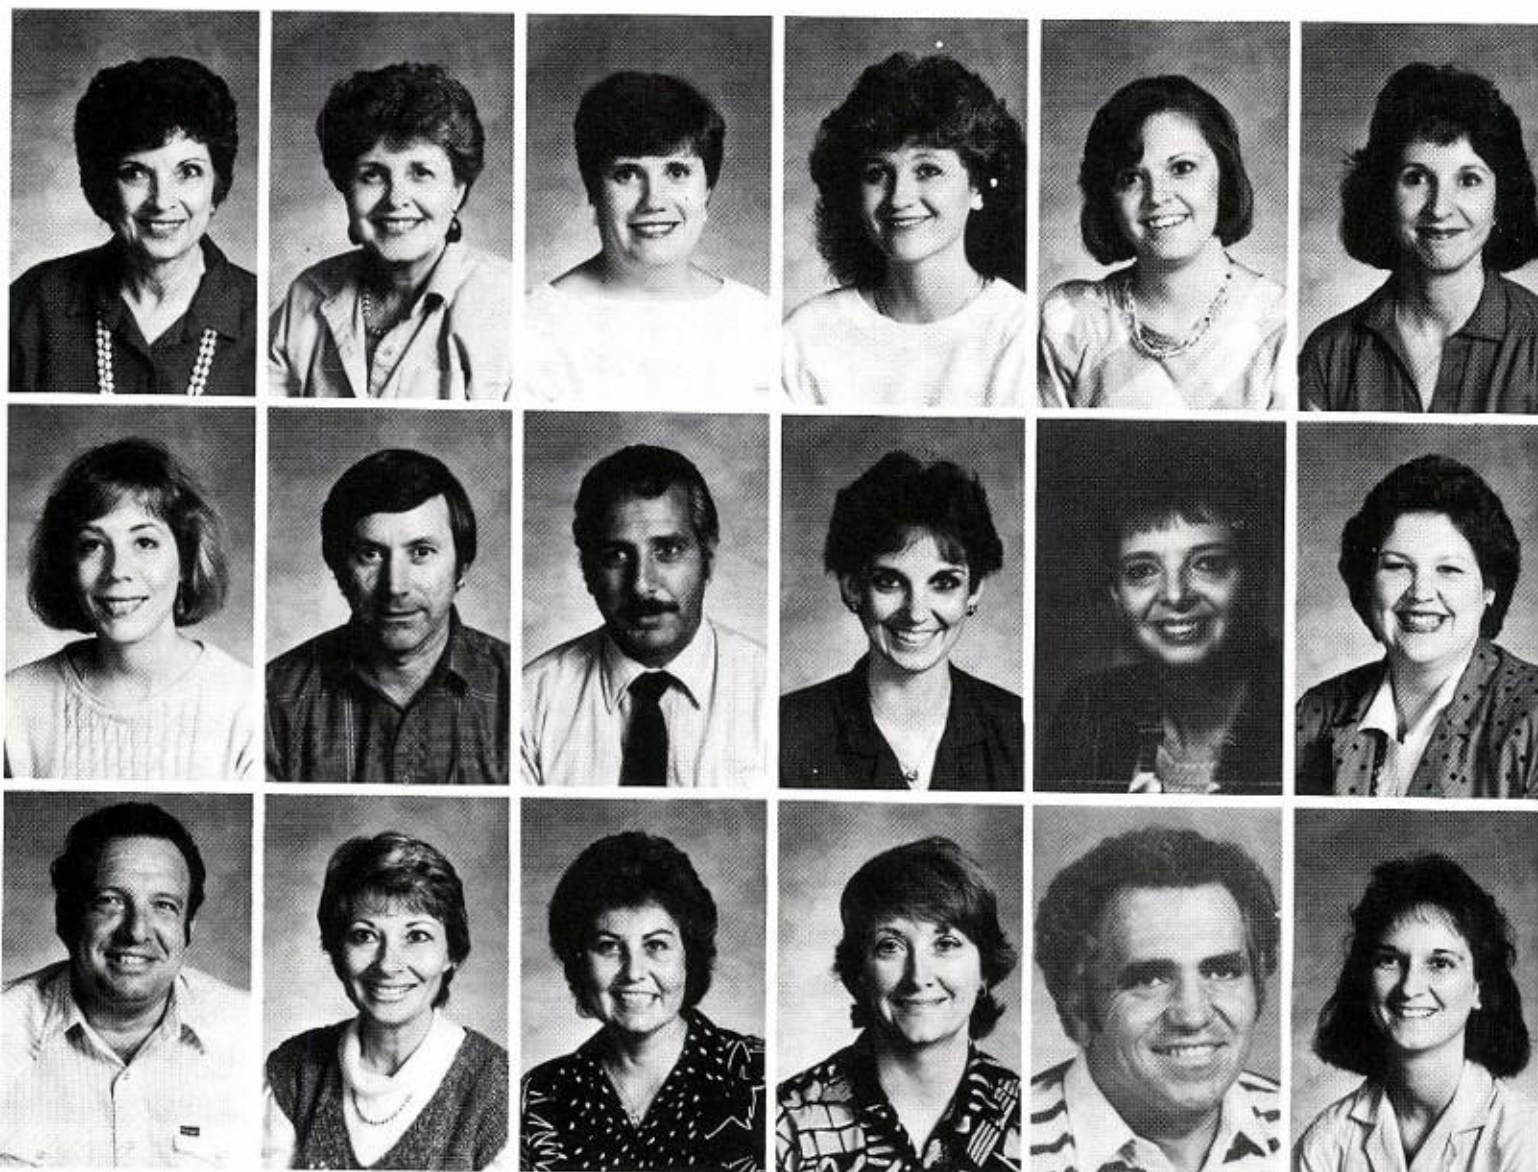

Shropshire smiled and added, "I tend to compare one player to the next. I just love working with them and being with them."

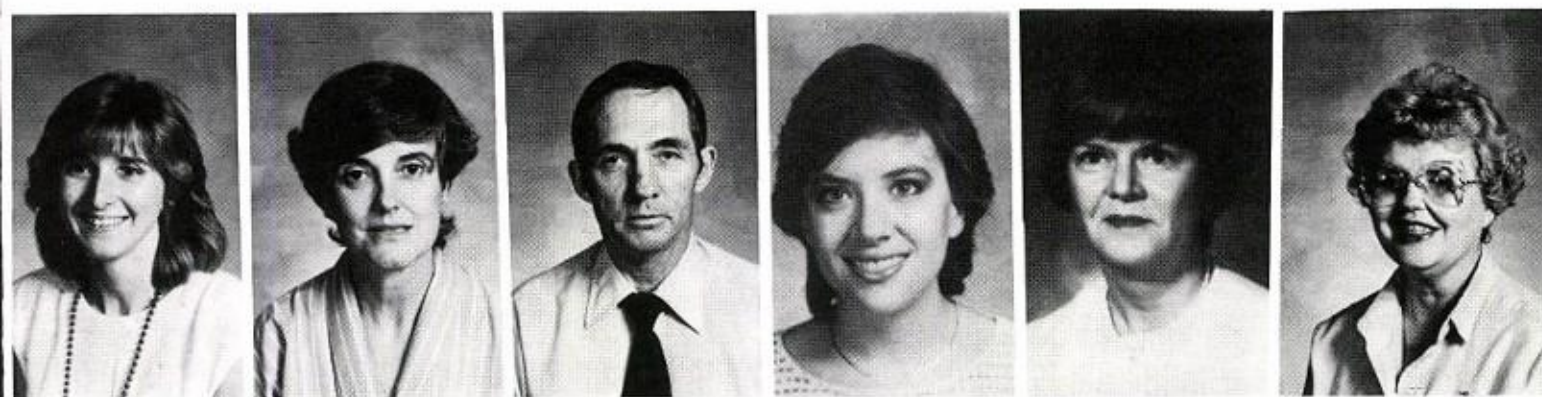

Checking their boxes for announcements and other information before school are Mr. Benbarka, Mrs. Delotto and Mrs. Bowles.

Why Be A Teacher?

Reasons vary on career choice

Some people want to become scientists, astronauts, doctors, engineers and professional athletes. Yet, others want to become educators — teachers, coaches, and administrators. If you ask most educators why they entered the teaching profession, the popular response would be that they "enjoy working with young people."

"It (teaching) offered me the ability to work with young men and women both in the classroom and on the athletic field," said Coach Louie Trammell, who has taught Physical Science and coached baseball and football for 11 years.

"Teachers influenced my life more than anyone else," said Mary Ann Anderson, who teaches Spanish II and ESL (English as a Second Language). "I wanted to make a similar impact on someone else's life."

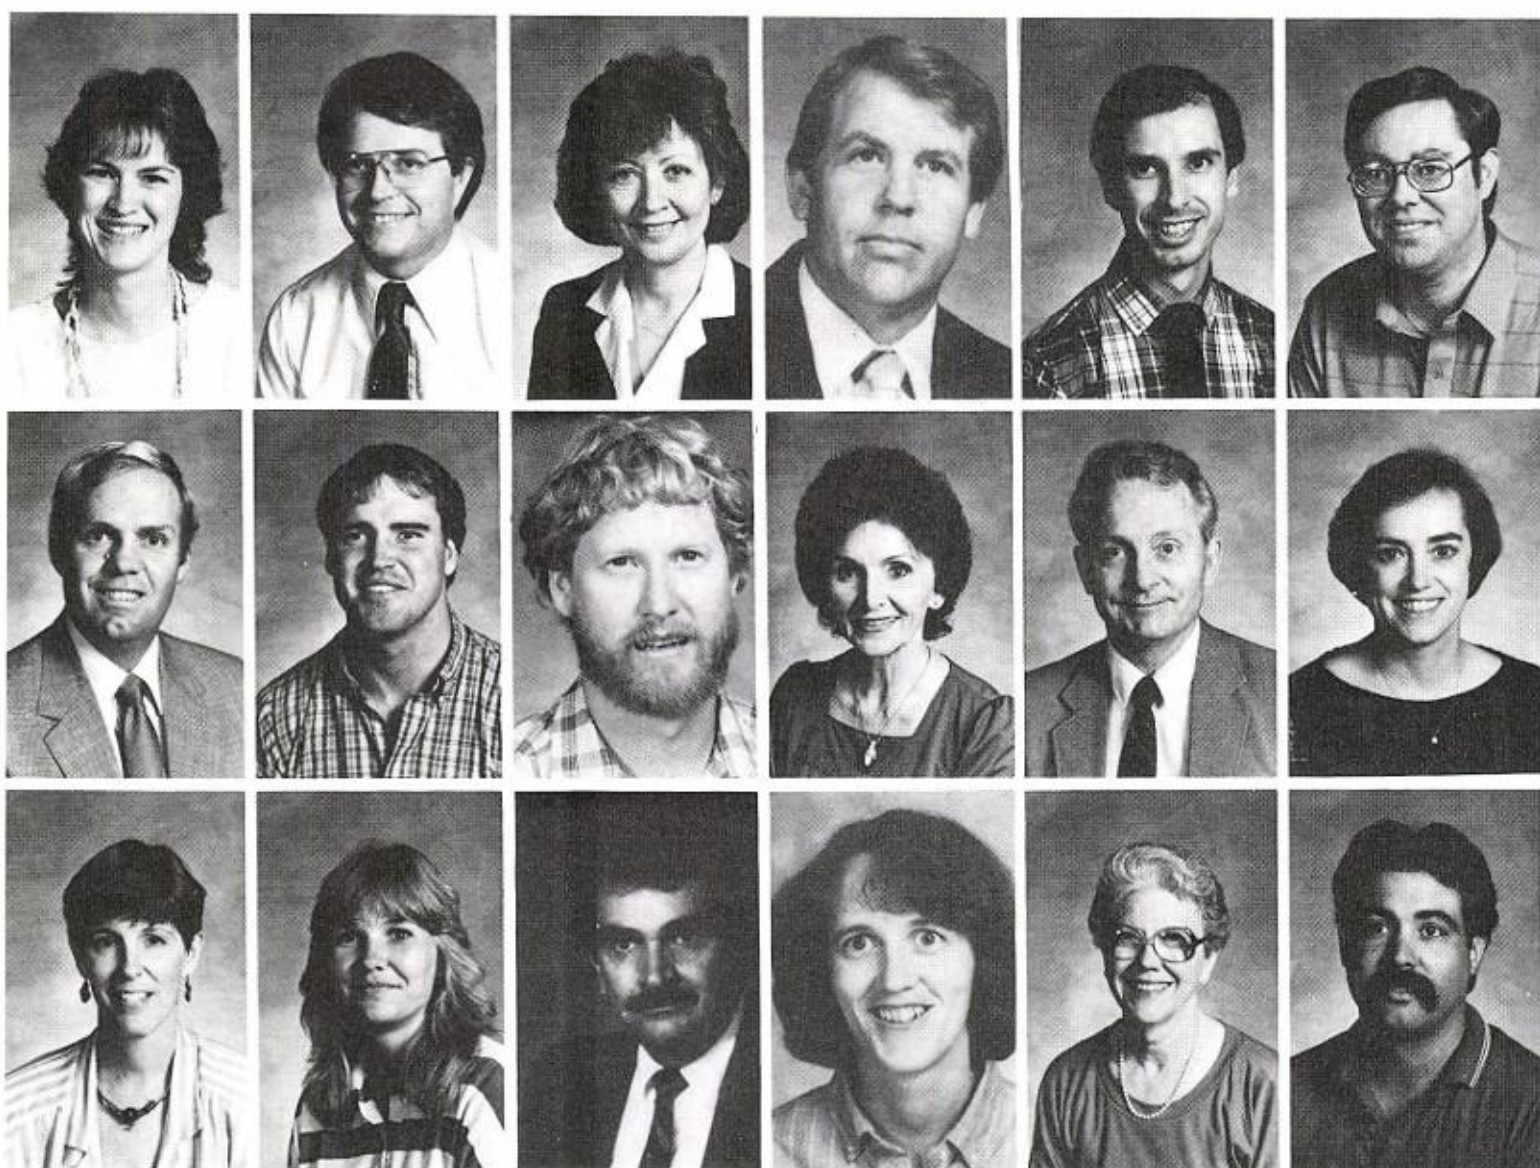

A University of Michigan graduate, math instructor Martha Raines commented, "I appreciated what my teachers did for me and I want to help my students learn and appreciate their opportunity to learn."

Danny Jones, a 20-year veteran art teacher, knew early in life what his destiny was. "Since the fourth grade I've known that I wanted to be a school teacher, but it wasn't until I was in college that I discovered that art should be my teaching field," he said.

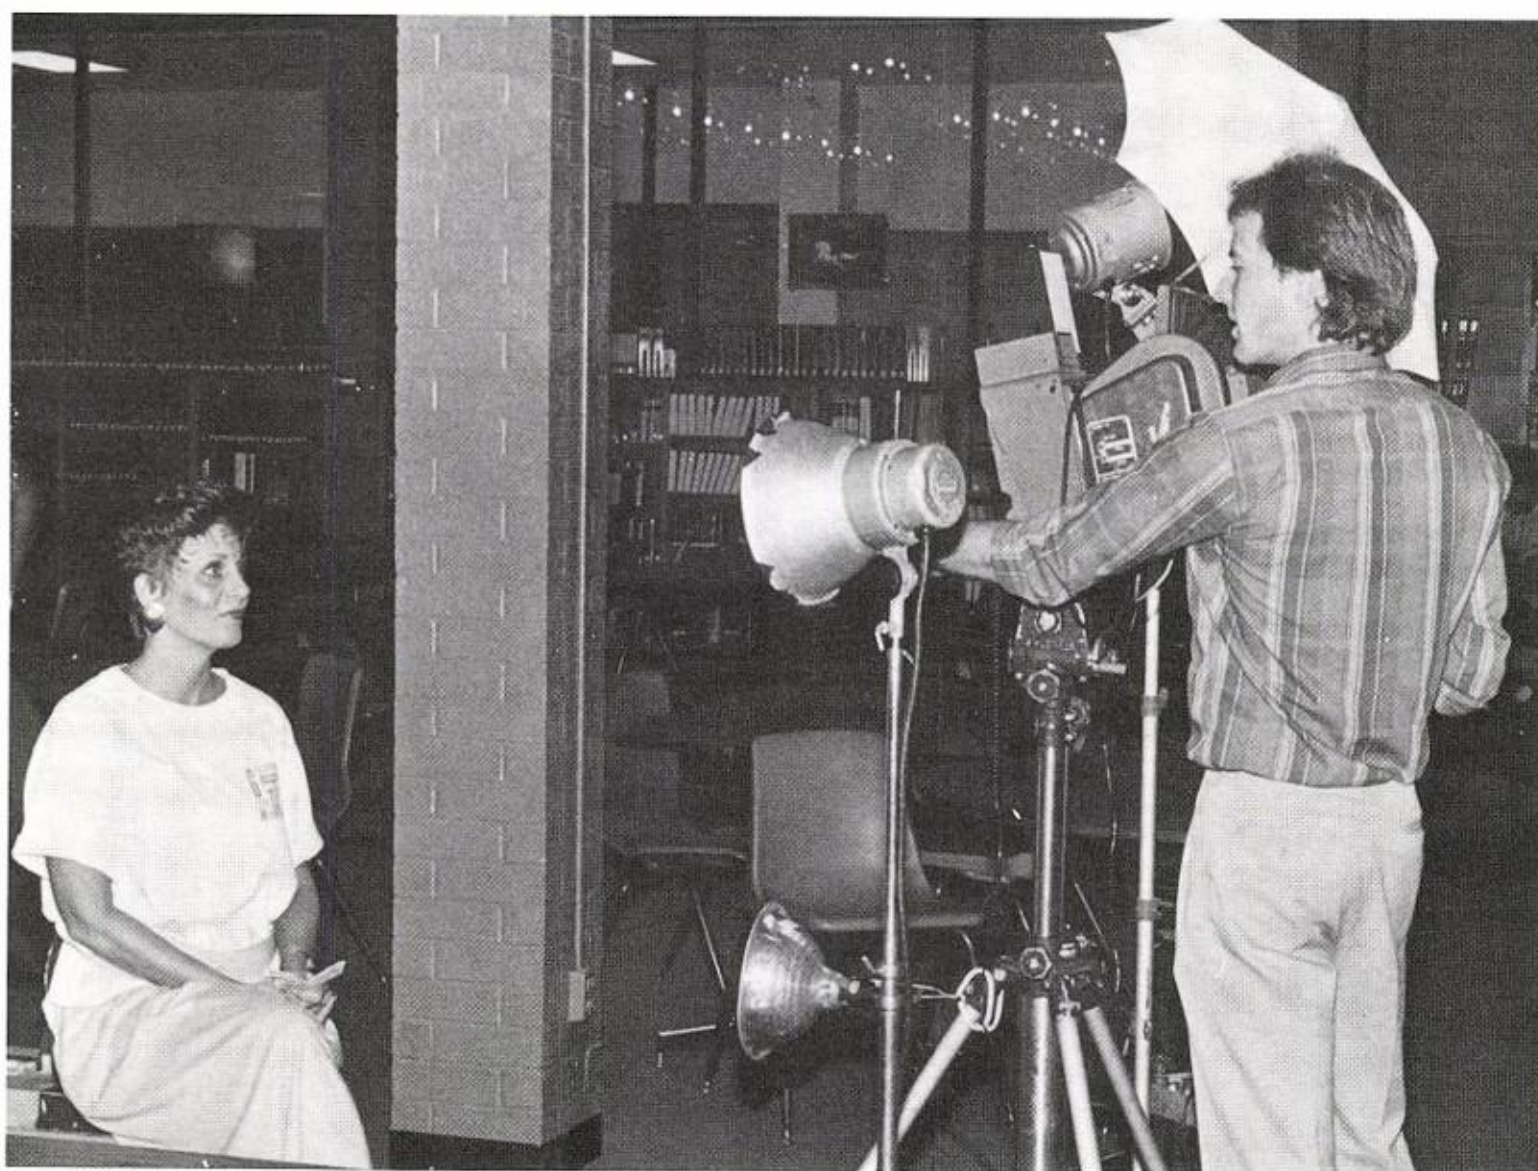

Karen Law, the GATE (Gifted and Talented Education) teacher, summed up the overall feeling of many educators. "I enjoy the learning process, the personalities and diversity of my students, and because I feel I can make a positive contribution to my students' futures."

Mr. Jones added, "Even after all the pressures of school teaching and the years of low pay, I have not regretted my decision to become a teacher. The rewards are too great."

New Challenges, Personnel Await Year

With the beginning of a new school year came new challenges and faces. "This year we are facing some new challenges, but I think it will be a promising new year for the district," said school board president Jerry Reed.

The move from District 4A to 5A affected not only athletics but UIL competitions and various school organizations. Also contributing to new changes were the addition of 120 teachers and administrators to the district, one of whom was Dr. Joe Starnes.

As a former Sweetwater teacher, principal and advisor, Dr. Starnes came to the Mansfield Independent School District during the summer to "join the positive attitude and growth expressed in the community."

"I basically plan to continue the great work already begun at the high school, middle schools and elementaries," he said. "I feel the MISD as a whole is very academically inclined."

"Our main concern at this time," said Dr. Starnes, "is the successful growth of the district into 5A division. Along with more student enrollment will come more responsibilities, but we have a dedicated school board, administrators and faculties that will make this an exciting school year."

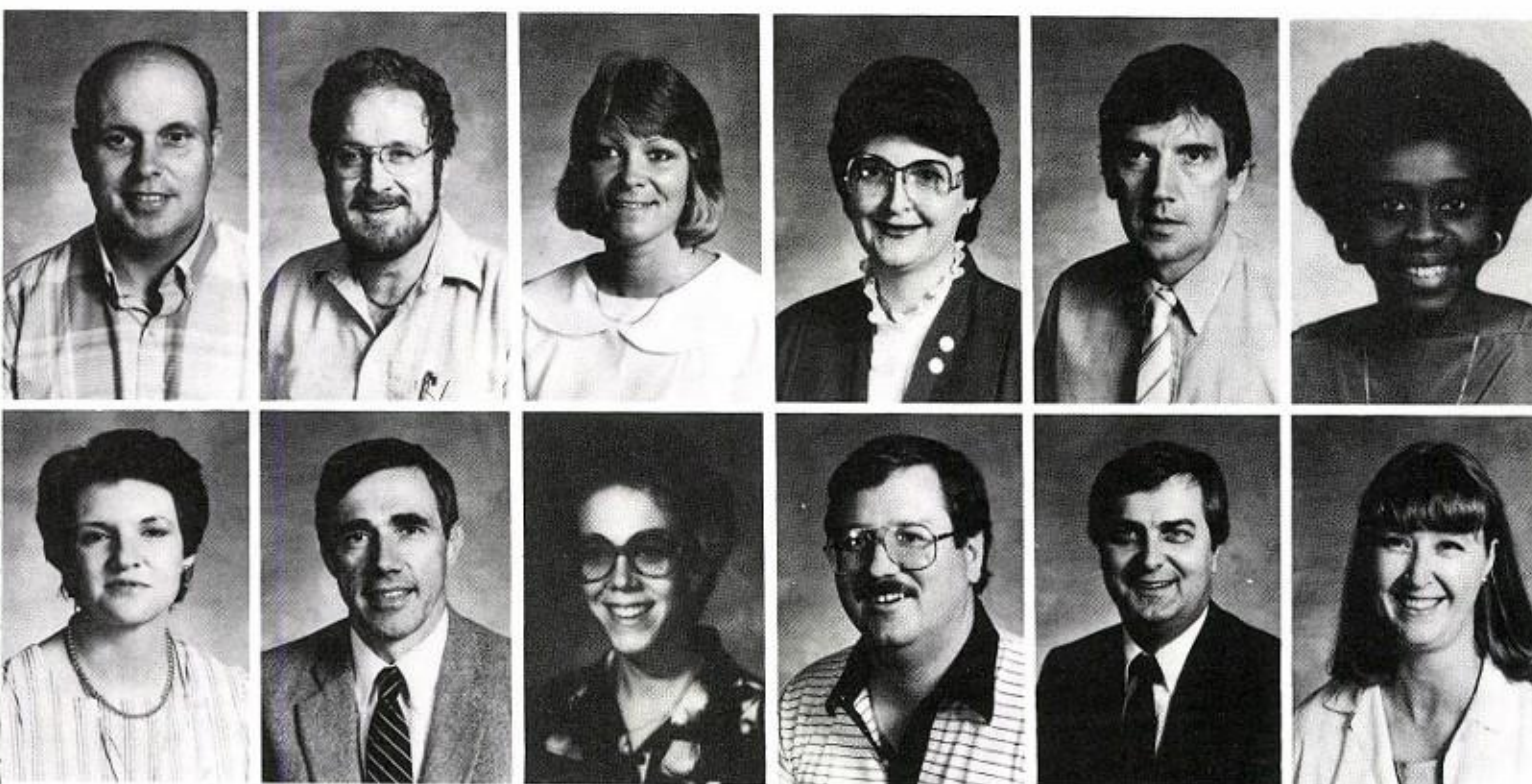

Mr. Reed added that the district experienced a substantial growth — over 16 percent — this year. "We are pleased with the enrollment for the 1986-87 school year."

To help solve overcrowding at the high school, a new 22-classroom facility was under construction during the year. "The new addition is going on schedule," said Mr. Reed. "We anticipate the facility to be ready for use at the start of the next school year."

As a whole, the district experienced no major problems or obstacles during the year and board members anticipate other outstanding school years in the future.

Students receive 'Slaves' for a day

Students were constantly reminded to bring materials to class, don't be tardy, study, and do their homework by teachers, administrators, and parents. Sometimes students found themselves feeling like "educational slaves." However, to help encourage students to attend their classes regularly, the administrators decided to offer themselves as "slaves" for the day to students who had perfect attendance during October. Approximately 850 students were eligible for the Slave Day drawing.

Given "owner privileges" were Kirsten Anton, A. J. Traicoff, Chandra Stienstra and Glenn Monteith. Slaves included Vernon Newsom, principal, and Jerry Gray, Edwena Massey, and H. F. Wurzbach, vice-principals.

The slaves cleaned their owner's locker, wore unique clothes, cleaned up in the cafeteria, and did other odd jobs as requested by their owners. "It was lots of fun for us and the students," said Mr. Gray. "I really enjoyed it — for the day."

A. J. Traicoff stands next to his "slave," Mr. Gray, on Slave Day held November 10.

Faculty Finds Something to Sing About

Four years ago, chemistry teacher Gordon Hoffman asked choir director Asa Low if he would be interested in helping create a faculty choir. Through Mr. Hoffman's and Mr. Low's love for music, the choir was born.

"It was hard at first," said Mr. Hoffman, "but when you have such great and talented singers like us, you're bound to make it."

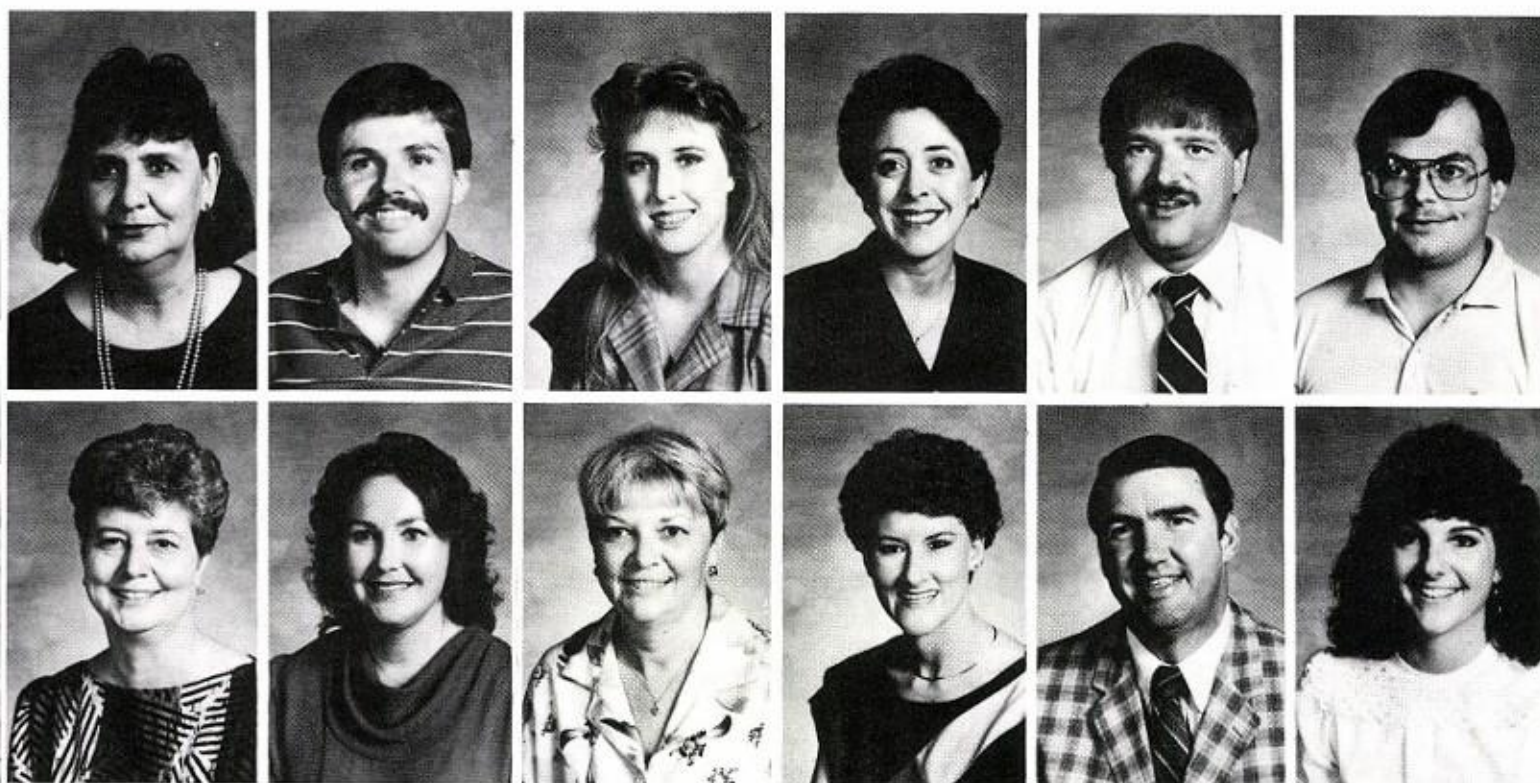

Each year the group shifts members. Some members give up while others — usually the new faculty — venture into the choir. The choir averages 20 members.

"It's a good way to meet some of the other faculty," said Mr. Hoffman. "It also releases stress."

When asked about the future plans for the choir, Mr. Hoffman said, "It's been decided to group again later on during the year for barber shop quartets." The choir had performed during the December band concert.

Although professional singing careers might seem out-of-reach at the moment, the faculty members don't appear ready to quit. "The choir won't ever die, it'll go on forever — till eternity's end," said Mr. Hoffman.

Senior Activities, Prom Supported By Fundraisers

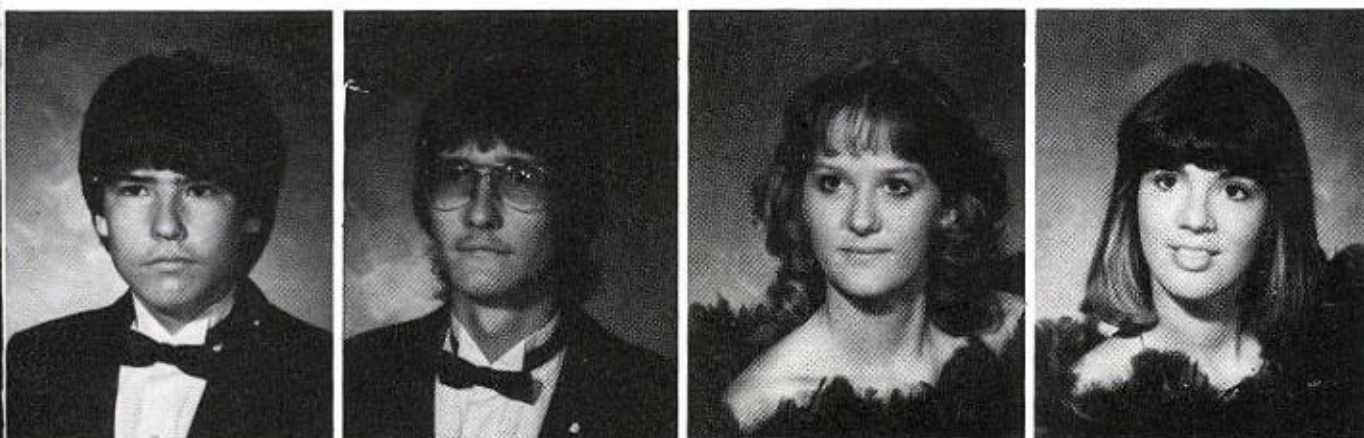

The senior class entered their last year with new feelings of responsibility and high hopes of what would be. Due to education restrictions, careful planning was done to raise money for the senior class. Various fundraisers were held during the year which included candy, t-shirt, and Gold C coupon sales. Proceeds benefited the senior prom and other senior activities.

Organizing and heading the projects were the class officers who were elected by their classmates in May 1986. Serving as president was Jill Reed; vice-president, Keith Hughes; secretary, Kim Harmon; and treasurer, Sondra Rosenberger. Patricia Burdick and Debra Permenter acted as the class sponsors.

Freshman Name Matt, Di Class Favorites

Described as "good-looking and friendly," freshmen nominated and voted Matt Louis and Di Stovall as class favorites.

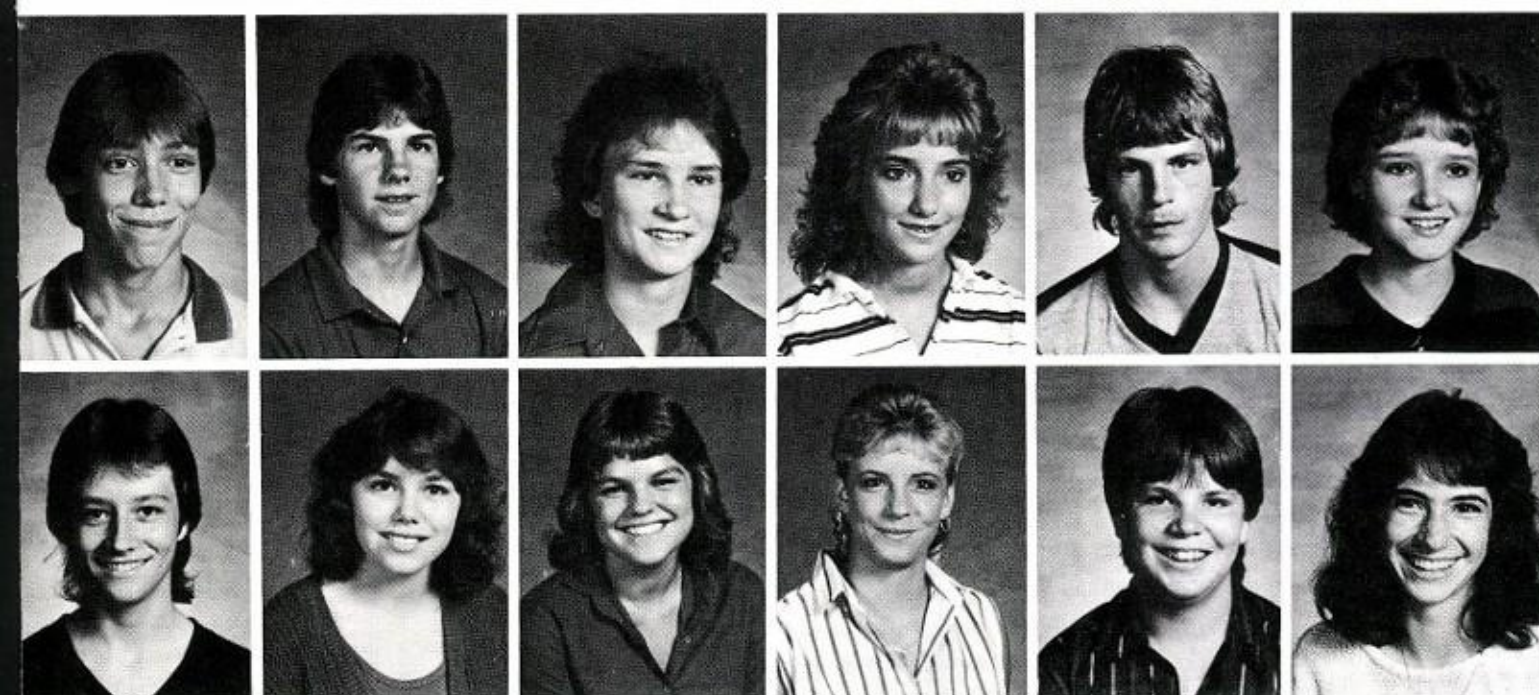

Originally from Arlington, Matt has lived in Mansfield for the past seven years.

A snow-skiing and music enthusiast, he served as class treasurer and was a member of the freshman football team and Key Club.

Di, a Fort Worth native, spent her spare time riding horses and playing softball. A member of the Mansfield Rodeo Team, she has lived in Mansfield 15 years.

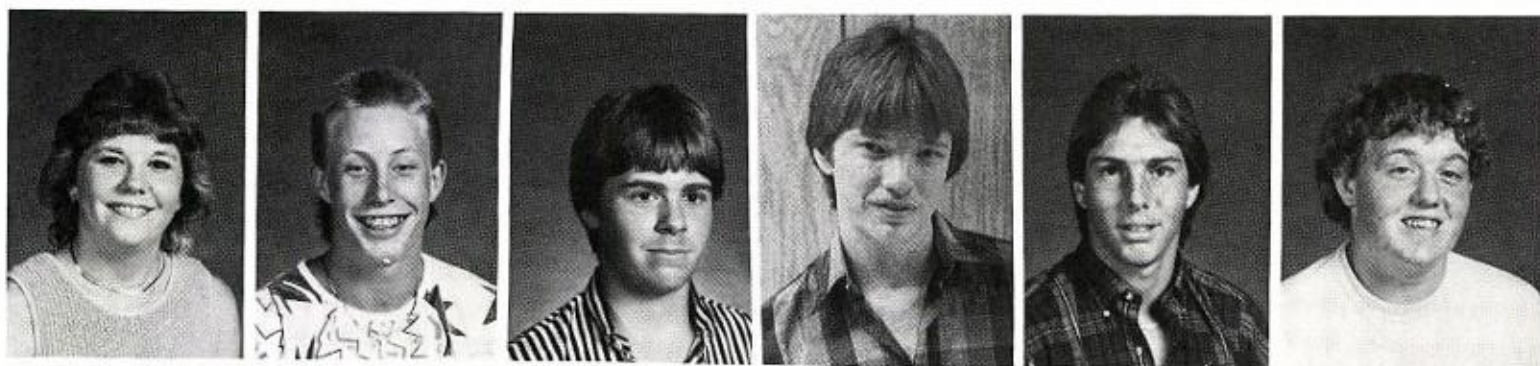

Other top class favorite finalists were Brian Byrd, Shana Fricks, Laura Popko and Jim Sissen.

Maturity, Duties Form Class Of '90

Freshmen found many traditions at Mansfield High that confused them until they became oriented with the new school policies and ways. The new fall arrivals forgot locker combinations, the location of their classrooms, and the name of their English teacher.

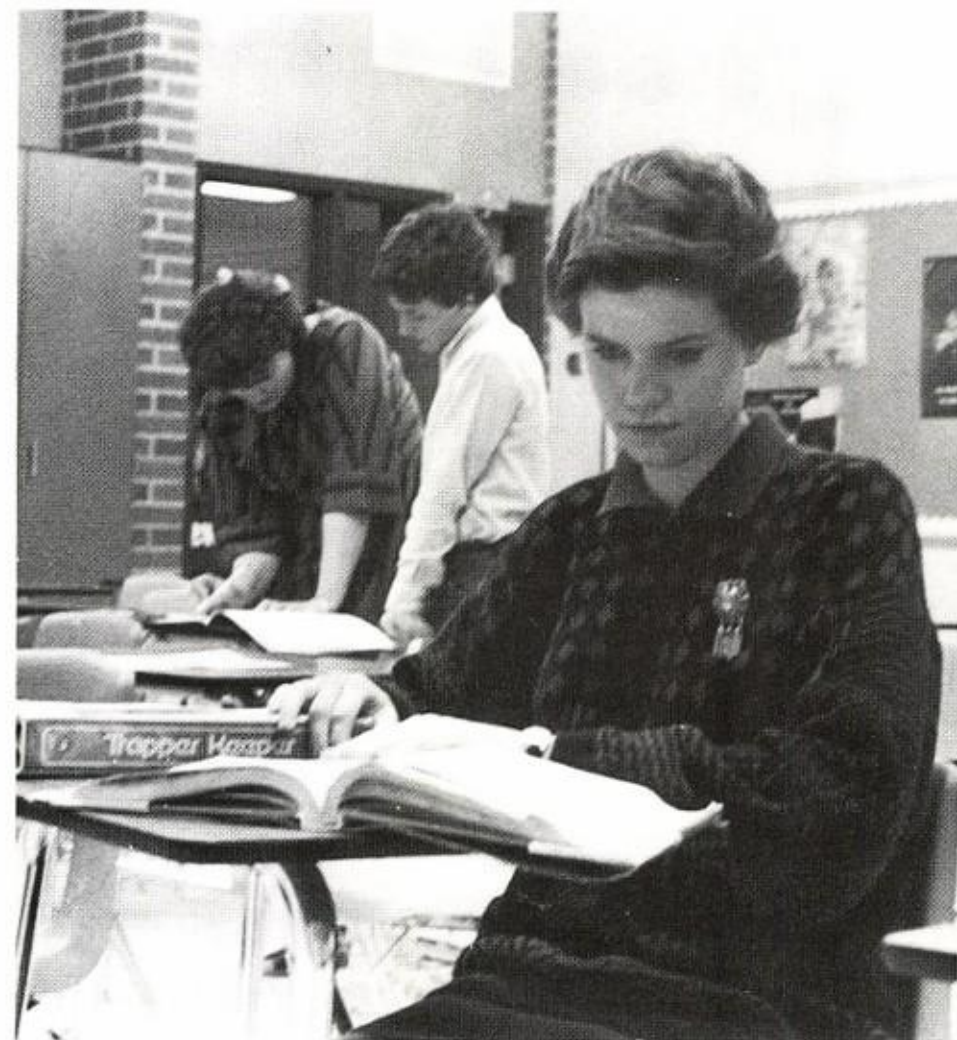

To be a freshman meant having to adjust to the active life of high school. During their first year at MHS, many new experiences awaited them. The excitement of the first game, the privilege of being on teams, the opportunities to join various clubs and organizations, and the experience of campaigning for class of '90 found themselves experiencing.

The newness of the freshmen soon wore off and the activities of the day became routine. They were able to make it between classes in the allotted five minutes, learned where their classrooms were and the names of their different teachers. Also, they learned the names of all administrators, counselors, and office personnel.

Mansfield High was not just another school anymore; it became a way of life.

Left: Cari Holster wonders if Steven Tipton got the same answer as she did.

Sophomores Select Class Favorites

"Active" and "athletic" were just two adjectives that described sophomore favorites Jill Debroeck and Brady Fielden.

Jill, a junior varsity cheerleader, was born in Godfrey, Illinois and has only lived in Texas four years. A member of Student Council and the tennis team, she served as class secretary this year.

Her hobbies include swimming, tennis, water skiing, and studying biology.

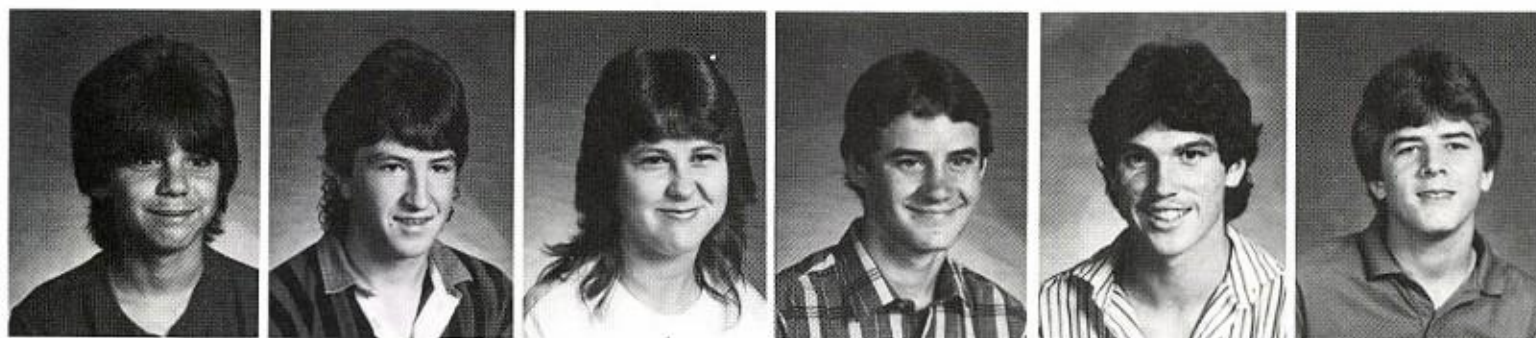

Brady, a native of Grand Prairie, was a member of the junior varsity football team and Future Farmers of America.

Among his interests were hunting and fishing.

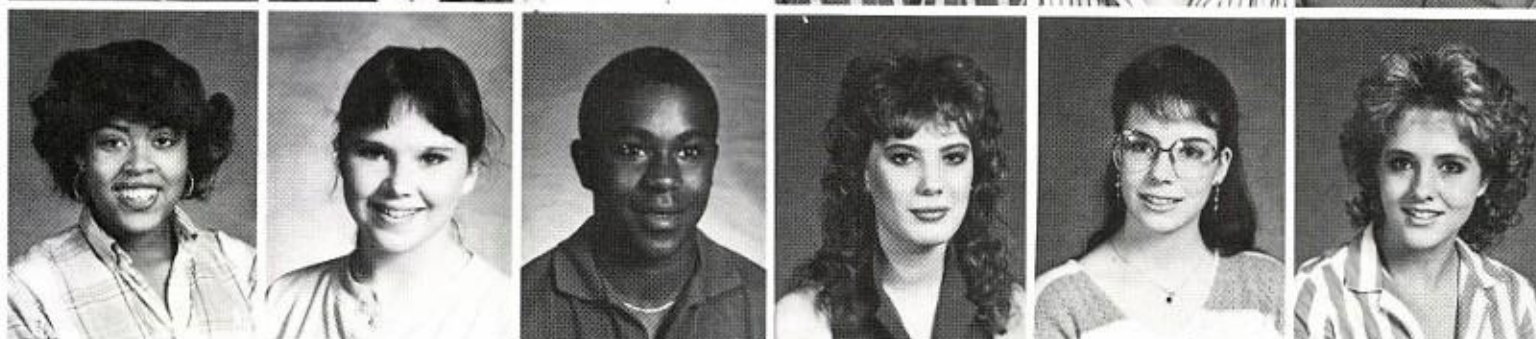

Other favorite finalists were Terry Burney, Michelle Leyman, Doug Lowry and Stephanie McBride.

Sophomores Plan Annual Fundraisers

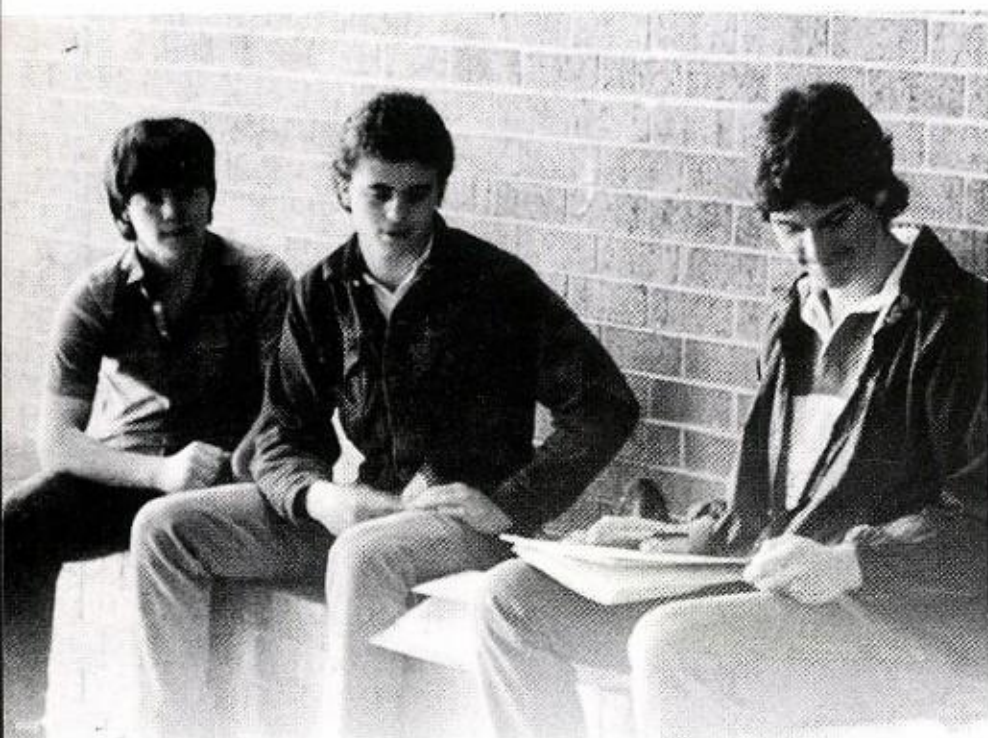

The sophomore class started the year with more confidence in themselves. No longer the youngest class, the sophomores began to organize various fundraisers.

Selling locker mirrors and candy were the major activities of the year.

Helping to lead the 379-member class was sponsor, Cynthia Williams and an all female officer staff.

Cheerleader, Athlete Earn 'Favorite' Title

Being selected as class favorite meant being someone who was involved in school activities and having a special quality that made others smile and laugh. Trish Savage and Kyle Hailey were selected by their peers as junior class favorites.

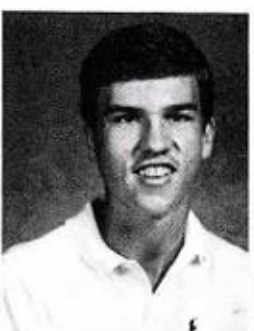

As a varsity cheerleader, Trish busied herself during the year between cheering on the Tigers and serving as junior class president. She was also active in Student Council.

Originally from Phoenix, Arizona, she enjoys skiing, hunting and drama.

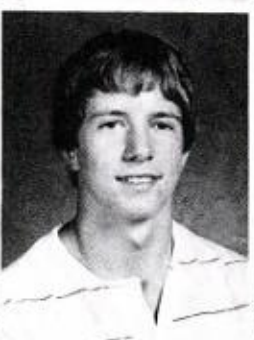

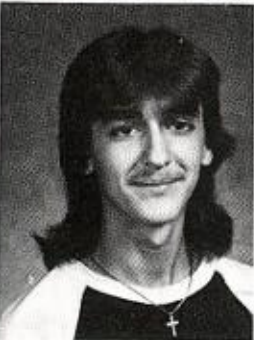

Also a hunting and fishing enthusiast, Kyle participated in various school sports during the year and served as a press representative for Students Against Drunk Driving.

A Fort Worth native, his favorite school subject was chemistry.

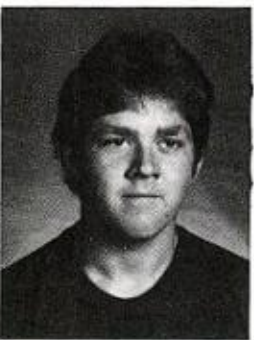

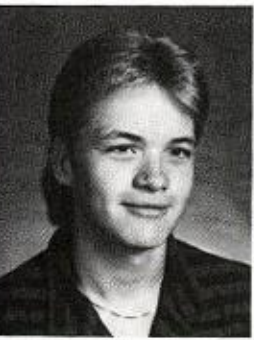

Junior favorite finalists were Otto Gallaher, Aimee Johnson, Jerald Quickle and Cami Wooten.

Spirited Juniors Begin Journey For Graduation

Desiring more student involvement, the high-spirited juniors began the year with enthusiasm.

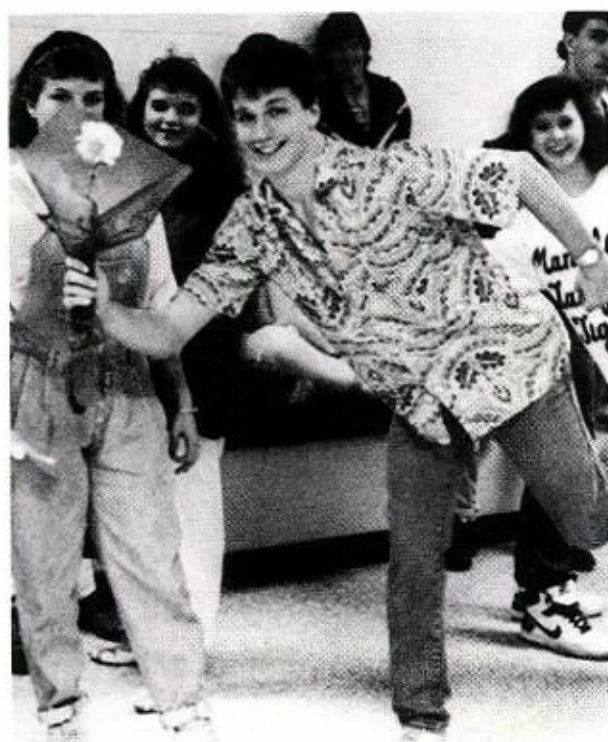

Winning spirit sticks at the pep rallies, class officer elections and becoming varsity team members were a few things that the juniors achieved.

Early in the year, important decisions confronted the class members on whether or not to purchase a class ring and to take the PSAT/NMSQT tests.

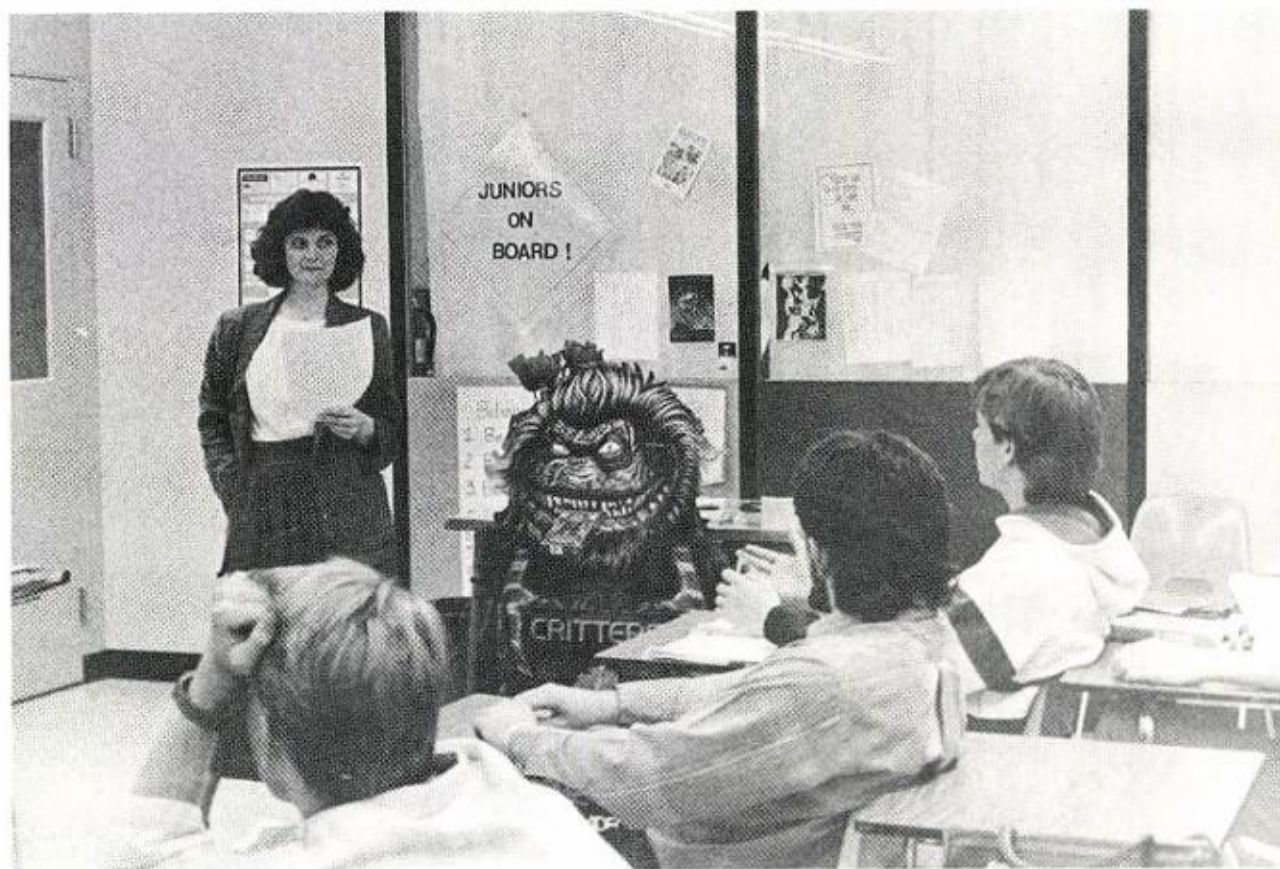

The Powder Puff football game, held on November 13, helped raise money for junior activities.

Helping the class to be the best it could be were the class officers and sponsor Mary Beth Henson.

Right: Junior class officers are Katie Ryan, secretary; Amanda Yarbrough, treasurer; Tina Southard, vice-president; Trish Savage, president.

Otto Gallaher serves as an "FTD florist" as he delivers a carnation on Valentine's Day.

Mrs. Dunn introduces "the critter" to her English III class as they study grammar.

Jennifer, Jason receive top honors as favorites

As one of their final duties as seniors, the class of '87 nominated and voted on class favorites. Jennifer Bodkins and Jason Wooten were selected as class favorites.

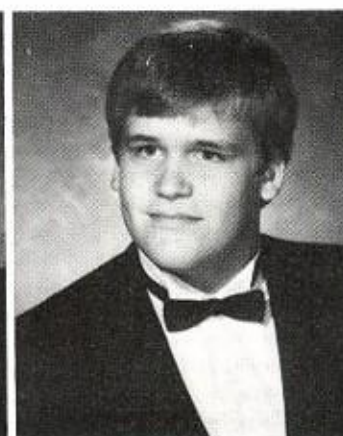

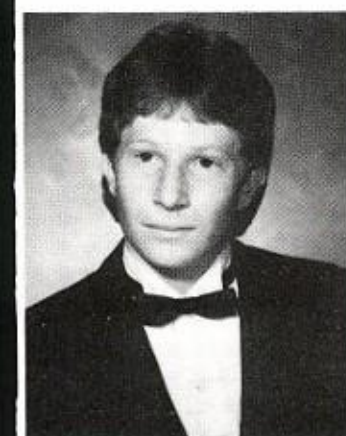

As senior favorite, Jennifer served as cheerleader and Tiger mascot during her three years at MHS. A native of Dallas, she spends her spare time dancing and fishing.

Mansfield native Jason Wooten was active in football, basketball, baseball and the fellowship of Christian Athletes. He also served on the graduation and prom committees and the Stephen Leake project. A water and snow skiing enthusiast, he was involved in Health Occupations Student Association, German Club, S.W.A.T. and Boys' State.

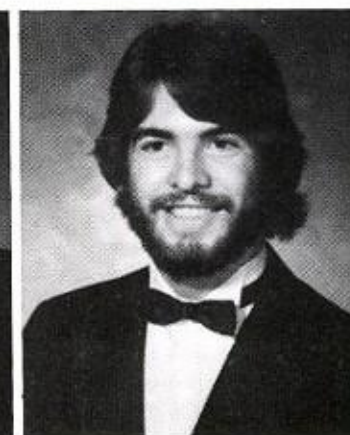

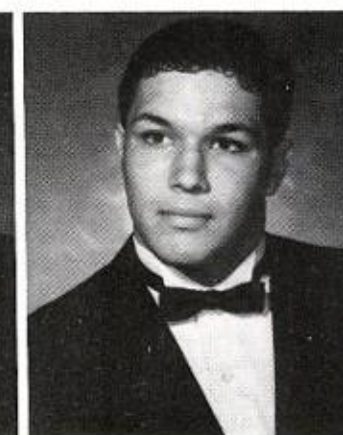

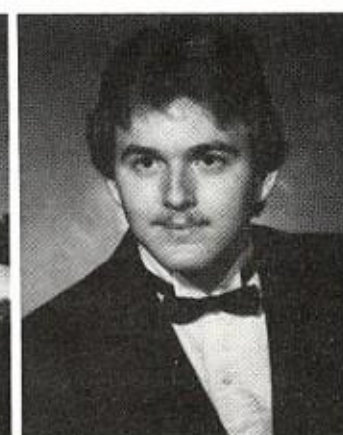

Nominees for favorites included Brian Dalton, Kelli Gray, Troy Maxwell and Jill Reed.

Seniors elect most spirited

Outgoing, friendly, and supportive were just a few adjectives that described Kelli Gray and Russell Faulks, Mr. and Miss Tiger Spirit.

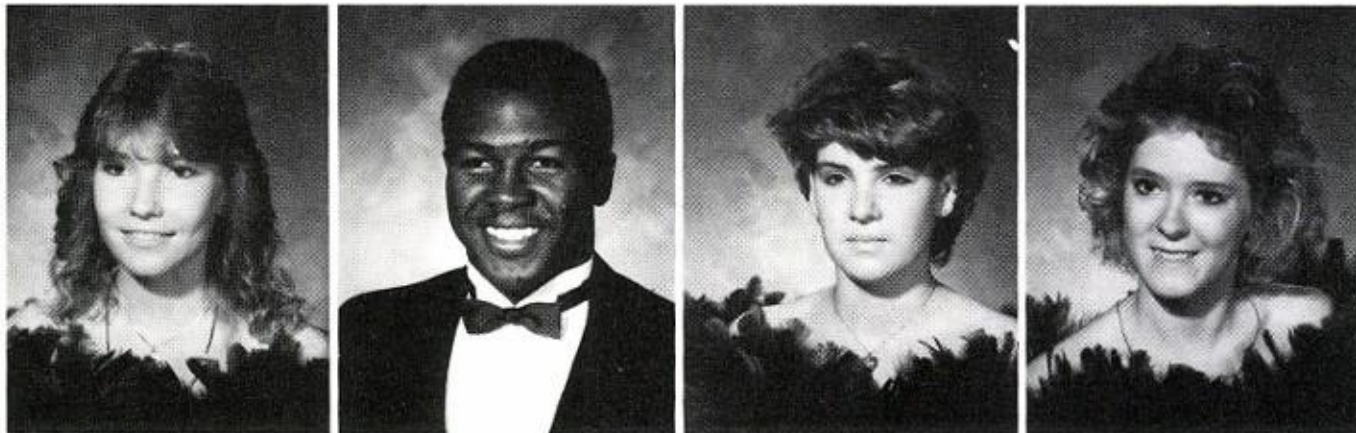

Kelli participated in basketball and was involved in S.A.D.D., F.C.A., Student Council, and National Honor Society. She was also active in Young Life, Stephen Leake, and the prom committee.

Russell was involved in football, basketball, and track. He was a member of the Spanish Club and Young Life.

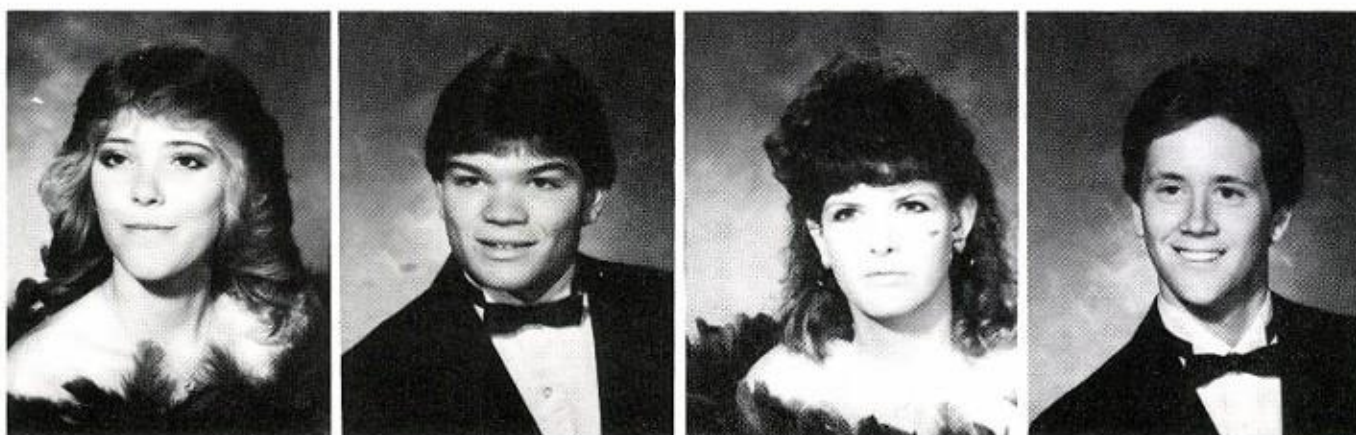

Other nominees were Jennifer Bodkins, Brian Dalton, Jeff Dunn and Tammie Mears.

Class of '87 Selects Republican Candidate

November 4, 1986. As election day arrived, voters, like the rain, poured in. After waiting for what seemed like hours to some, each person cast their ballot in hopes that their vote would make a difference in the outcome of the elections.

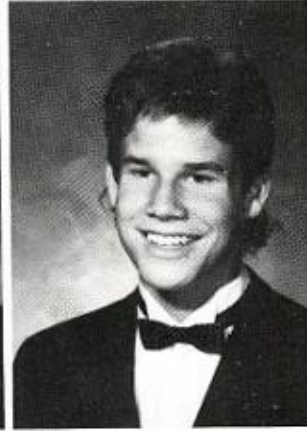

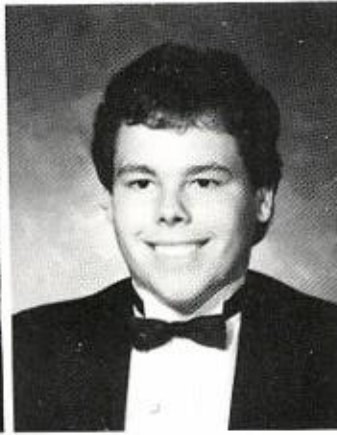

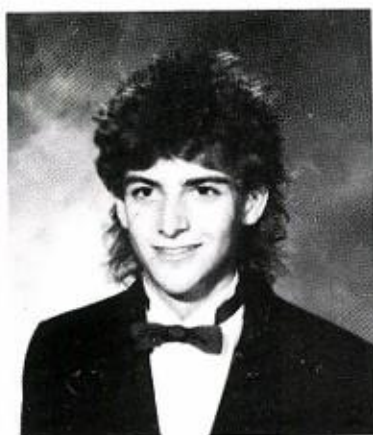

Although most of the seniors were not registered voters, they voiced their preference in a gubernatorial poll on election day. Of 189 seniors who participated, incumbent Governor Mark White (Democrat) received 26 votes, while former Texas governor Bill Clements (Republican) claimed 132 votes. Thirty-two votes stated no preference. Libertarian candidate Theresa Doyle received 2 votes.

Reasons given for student choices varied from the implementation of House Bill 72 to tax increases and the economy. "I believe Mark White wants to help the future generations by strengthening our education," said Ronnie Furgerson.

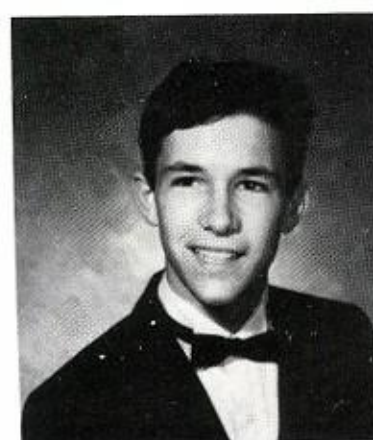

However, Cheryl Whaley, a Clements supporter, felt that Texas is in a time of low economic stability. "I feel that Clements will enhance employment and education at the same time, instead of just concentrating on higher education," she said.

Editor's Note

As the 1987 annual staff sat down at the beginning of the year searching out a theme for this book, we began examining our own lives. The closer we looked, the more we saw our lives as a quest — one as unique as each person's individuality. Although the ends to our searching may be different, we are all facing the same challenge — the quest called Life.

Though our paths may never cross again, I hope that you will find eternal bliss as you complete your quest.

A special thanks goes to Mr. Danny Jones for his artistic input; Ms. Kathryn Barnett for her words of encouragement; Mrs. Judy Jeffries for her help with our bookkeeping; and, the Mansfield News Mirror for their help in photography.

We, The 1987 Tiger staff, have tried to take careful measures in avoiding spelling, picture placement, identification, etc. errors. If any do exist, we apologize.

Colophon

The 1987 Tiger's press run was 850 copies. The 224 pages were printed in 80 lb. glossy enamel paper. Headlines were set 30 point Stymie Medium Bold. Copy was set in 12 point Stymie Medium and captions were set 10 point Stymie Medium. The lithocote cover was printed in a 4-color process with the background color Beige #47. The endsheets were a solid color Carnival Tan stock. The printer was Taylor Publishing Co., Dallas, Texas.
